Towns Offer $1 million in Saving, Sewers in Big Area

The four local townships to night will jointly offer to construct needed sanitary collector and interceptor sewers at a $2,300,000 saving while serving a much larger area than alternative proposals.

Their proposal is to be submitted to Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission engineers this evening by Supervisors Walter Sparks of Chouteau, Louis Whittle of Namekoi, Nelson Hagener of Granite City and Arthur W. Moore of Venice Township.

Analysis by the Press-Record of competing sanitary sewer plans showed today that the limited scope of a Granite City municipal plan could serve to bar service to adjacent areas, such as Ponton Beach village and Mitchell.

This possibility would result from the "one chance" nature of extensive federal-state financial aid.

In other words, once a federal grant was devoted to Granite City's sewerage lines (intended to link the city sewerage treatment plant with areas outside the city limits), it is considered unlikely that additional interceptor grants would be authorized for the same area.

What the townships propose to do is to build collectors to provide homes and other property with sanitary sewer service. This could upgrade property value and spark faster growth—so that a broader base of people and firms would be available to help shoulder the local tax burden.

The townships could economically intercept the collected waste and route it to sewage treatment facilities, the Press-Record analysis showed. In so doing, they could avert financial aid that could be obtained in a single package for all collector-interceptor work.

This would be no way endanger 99% aid for Granite City treatment plant upgrading, the study showed. In fact, the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council—coordinating body for the two-state metropolitan area—already has given approval to the city's upgrading plan.

Upgrading from primary to secondary treatment is being required by anti-water-pollution authorities, who have set a Dec. 31, 1973, deadline for compliance by Granite City and others.

As mentioned, East-West Gateway has approved Granite City proceeding with treatment upgrading.

East-West has not authorized interceptors by Granite City, nor is it expected to—since the interceptors have no apparent relation to or benefit for the city.

The initial—not the present—city interceptor proposal could have used the contention that the interceptors were an outward extension of existing Granite City sanitary sewers.

However, today's analysis concludes, this might have led to overflow of unincorporated area sewage onto Granite City streets when combined sewers in the southern part of the city began to fill during rainstorms.

The current, revised Granite City interceptor plan utilizes the townships' basic approach of routing sanitary sewage to wastewater treatment plants toward existing sewer lines.

But the townships would send the interceptors through undeveloped territory, while the city plan would cut through the heart of Granite City.

General construction, J. J. Altman, $1,832,361; Frun-Gilson, $1,570,000; Hellmuth, $1,257,280; G. H. Sternberg, $1,816,734; S. M. Wilson, $1,933,747; and M. H. Wolfe, $1,574,000.

Electrical, Carl Electric Co., $478,182; Delta Electric Co., $468,900; Guarantee Electric Co., $496,000; Lowry Electric Co., $312,438; Mike's Electric Co., $603,000; and Sachs Electric Co., $553,500.

Intercepter bonds by the townships, rather than waiting for city interceptors to be built to guarantee an outlet and bond availability.

Saving in cash outlays by Granite City property owners, who would need only to guarantee funds for upgrading their existing treatment plant. Not only would Granite City not have to underwrite the cost of interceptors, but their cost of treatment plant upgrading would be reduced through usage fees paid by the townships.

Growth is expected to at least double once sanitary sewers are made available.

The Mitchell public water district, beginning operation in 1963 with 580 customers, now serves 1,204 and has been averaging a growth of 36 customers per year.

The Ponton Beach public water district, starting in 1961 with 265 customers, serves 484 and has been growing by an annual average of 33.

The area to be served by the two districts is 13,762. The total is expected to reach 18,740 before 1980 and 63.4% ultimately.

The sanitary sewer layout proposed by the four townships consists of:

1. An interceptor connecting the Mitchell area with the city treatment plant.
2. An interceptor connecting developed fringe areas on the north and east sides of Granite City, plus the village of Ponton Beach and the Stallings area, with outlet into the interceptor serving Mitchell.
3. A system of sanitary collector sewers with outlets to the interceptor sewers described in 1 and 2.
4. A collector sewer serving the W. Benjamin area, with outlet into the North Granite pumping station on 27th Street.
5. A collector sewer system serving East Madison, Cloverleaf and Eagle Park, with outlet into the City of Madison sewer system.
6. A system of collector sewers to serve State Park Place and the developed area east of Illinois Route 111, with outlet into the Fairmont village system.

Mitchell is Chouteau Township; Ponton Beach, Stallings, the northern and eastern sub-

Satisfactory GC High School Bid

Low base bids for construction of the new high school in Granite City total $2,366,496, according to proposals submitted by 26 contractors at a special meeting of the Board of Education Wednesday night.

School administrators are planning to recommend contract awards at the board's regular meeting Monday night following a study of alternate proposals during the weekend.

B. J. Davis, superintendent, said the early awarding of contracts would afford contractors more time to meet the completion deadline of September, 1973.

The school, to be constructed near Namekoi and Maryville roads, is to be financed with a $3.6 million bond issue.

Low bidders in five categories are:

General construction, L. E. Wolf Construction Co. of Granite City, $1,276,501; electrical, Rite Electric Co. of Granite City, $461,715; heating, France Heating Co. of Edwardsville, $593,521; plumbing, A. M. S. Plumbing Co. of Granite City, $478,182; and mechanical equipment, Southern Equipment Co. of St. Louis, $139,463.70.

Other contractors and their base bids in the various categories are:

General construction, J. J. Altman, $1,832,361; Frun-Gilson, $1,570,000; Hellmuth, $1,257,280; G. H. Sternberg, $1,816,734; S. M. Wilson, $1,933,747; and M. H. Wolfe, $1,574,000.

Electrical, Carl Electric Co., $478,182; Delta Electric Co., $468,900; Guarantee Electric Co., $496,000; Lowry Electric Co., $312,438; Mike's Electric Co., $603,000; and Sachs Electric Co., $553,500.

75 at Downtown Mall Hearing

Enthusiasm continues for the downtown Granite City mall and construction during the summer is believed likely following a 90-minute public hearing attended by 75 people Tuesday evening at the City Hall.

A special assessment plan affecting the property owners who are receiving direct benefits is being developed for the initial $250,000 mall phase, the gathering was told.

The plan calls for vehicle access on Niedringhaus Avenue from Edison Avenue to Cleveland Blvd. and southeasterly traffic on 18th Street between Cleveland and State Street, it was explained. The district of Niedringhaus traffic is being studied.

The assessment district consists of the Niedringhaus-18th State triangle. It would be expanded if a second phase is carried out later. The initial phase includes parking along Niedringhaus and 18th, and the later expansion would provide additional parking space.

Through traffic will not be emphasized in the mall, said the plan. The plan calls for curbside alterations to enhance the general attractiveness of the area, including the widening of the main thoroughfare.

Mayor Donald Partney presented and financing procedures were outlined by Attorney Leo H. Kopp.

Attorney George Filcoff questioned the mall planners on behalf of several unnamed property owners. Speakers included Homer Huber and Maurice Rich of the Associated Retailers, the district's business groups and Edward Kellogg of the Chamber of Commerce.

Financing to permit a prompt construction start has been pledged, it was announced. Specific payment and construction start dates are to be taken by the City Council on the basis of recommendations being proposed by a four-member city governmental committee.

New Salvation Army Counseling Service Here Is Offering Aid to Unwed Mothers

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

She was 15½ years old, a sophomore in a Quad-City high school and pretty desperate. She was afraid she was pregnant.

She wasn't quite sure, despite all the publicity patients who had better than not knowing, she told herself.

Telling her parents was out. She couldn't talk to them any more.

Even if she could explain her predicament, Mom probably would scream and yell accusations against her. Later, it seemed Mom was always angry at her, not trying to help her or staying out past curfew.

Destructing a Dream
Her father was the worst one to approach about the problem. He had dreams of her going to college and becoming a teacher, one of his own realized ambitions.

Dad had always made her feel as if she was something very special. No, if she talked to him about the problem in his eyes would be the end.

She was afraid word was getting around school that she was "in trouble." She had consulted a "very good" friend in strictest confidence, swearing her to secrecy.

She knew what had happened, though. By the way Carol and Tammy looked sideways at her yesterday between classes. Jan didn't stop by the house after school Monday to play records the way she had every week for the past three months.

Afraid of Abortion
She heard of two girls in school who had abortions. But, she didn't have the money; it cost about $800 she was told.

Besides, she was afraid of the abortion route. Gina nearly died last year going to that quick fix.

The school nurse was a dead loss, too, she reasoned. Probably had to make out all kinds of reasons for the nurse, she concluded. Even if Doc agreed

Venice to Proceed on Underpass Road Ink

Relocation of Broadway in Venice to connect with the newly-built Broadway underpass and construction of approaches to McKinley Bridge and the right-of-way of FA Route 151.

The project is expected to get under way by the latter part of this month, Venice city officials disclosed today.

Detailed working plans for the project have been completed by the city's consulting engineers, Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab, and are available for inspection by interested persons at the engineering firm's offices, 3100 State St.

Notice was given today that a formal request for a public hearing on the relocation plans may be made to the engineering firm not later than March 23.

Mayor John E. Lee said that unless a hearing is sought by that date, none will be held. The city then will call the board for the construction work.

The relocation will turn Broadway directly west at Third Street, continuing through the underpass and northerly about 500 feet north of the Broadway and Main street intersection, and southerly on Main Street to a point 517 feet south of Abbott Street.

A third possibility, township interceptors routed to a treatment plant near Natick, either the townships or city; it would not serve as large an area as the $12,227,350 plan.

Other advantages of the four-township sanitary sewer collector and interceptor program are believed to include:

Encouragement of growth by serving the entire undeveloped area of the Quad-City area. The city plan stops short of the major outlying population areas.

Planning of sewer depths and routings by public and private officials attuned to the specific area by long years of familiarization.

Acceleration of sewer construction to unserved areas through prompt sale of collector-interceptor bonds.

Creation of a new Granite City agency empowered to issue revenue bonds for the purpose of financing aid to local industries was approved Tuesday by the city council Monday night.

A motion that City Attorney Leon Scroggins prepare the ordinances necessary to establish such an agency was approved by a unanimous vote.

The proposal was made by Mayor Donald Partney who referred to plans by Miles Laboratories, Inc. and other manufacturers at its Granite City plant March 31, and said he believes the city should take any steps possible to avert further industrial outflows.

The mayor said that he considers Granite City's home rule status under the 1870 constitution sufficient to establish and operate such an authority without supporting state legislation. He pointed out that there now is a bill pending in the Illinois Legislature to create an Illinois Pollution Control Financing Agency that is similar in scope to his plans for a Granite City agency.

For Pollution Control
Mayor Partney said the agency will be known as the Granite City Industrial Pollution Control Financing Agency. Primarily, he said, the agency will provide approaches to FA Route 151 and to McKinley Bridge when the River Road is built from Niedringhaus Avenue to Venice. The Illinois Division of Highways has appropriated $200,000 for right-of-way for that extension in this year's highway work plan. No provision for Route 151 construction work is made this year, however.

The Broadway underpass which will take Broadway under the GMAO, New York Central and Norfolk & Western railroad tracks, was completed last summer.

Under an agreement between the city of Venice and the state, the cost of the improvements will be shared in a program that calls for the state to finance certain phases of the undertaking, and the city to finance other phases.

Mayor Lee said the city's total share of the project is expected to cost about $600,000. Of that amount the city now has more than $500,000 in escrow, invested in savings certificates. Venice also has applied under the federal urban highway program for $250,000 to supplement its share of the cost.

The Gean family includes three children, Jeffrey, five years old, Eric, three years old, and Donald, five months old.

All three and Mrs. Gean have been hospitalized for different illnesses during the past year.

Mr. Gean was employed at the Kirkpatrick Homes housing project as a maintenance man until he became seriously ill three months ago.

If the 12-hour operation is successful, the doctors predict, the local man will be able to return to work and lead a normal life, they believe. The donor of the kidney has not been specified.

Because of the expenses the family may have to continue to assume during his recovery, friends have set up a Ray Gean Fund at the American National Bank of Granite City and are also planning a benefit dance on March 26 at the American Legion Hall in Granite City.

This volunteer group of friends also distributed canisters in local business places this week, and all contributions will be forwarded to the bank fund.

The mayor said he conceived the idea of an authority to aid industry after he was informed by Miles Laboratories officials of their plans to close the Granite City plant.

"This is the worst blow to hit Granite City in many years," Mayor Partney told council members. "We should do everything in our power to avert such setbacks in the future."

The motion that Scroggins prepare the ordinances creating the agency was made by Alderman Thomas Baker.

Await Kidney Transplant

By DONNA HARTWICK
Press-Record Staff Writer

A 34-year-old Granite City man, Ray Gean, will receive a new lease on life when he undergoes a kidney transplant within two weeks at the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn.

Mr. Gean, 2819 East 25th St., is a victim of the rare Fabry kidney disease, a hereditary ailment.

He underwent an operation in order to use a kidney machine as during the three-month period, Wednesday and Friday. Each treatment at Barnes takes six hours and costs $250.

His physician, Dr. Aridula of St. Louis, and the medical staff at the Mayo Clinic arranged for the transplant, which could cost in excess of $40,000.

It will be performed at no cost to the family, as it will be a medical experiment to correct the Fabry disease. Hospital expenses at Rochester, too, will be furnished at no expense.

Although the operation freed the family is in need of funds to provide transportation for Mr. Gean and his wife to Mayo Clinic and for her expenses during the three-month period of treatment and post-operative care.

The doctors who will perform the surgery insist that his wife, Frances, accompany Mr. Gean to Minnesota and remain there until he is released.

The Gean family includes three children, Jeffrey, five years old, Eric, three years old, and Donald, five months old.

All three and Mrs. Gean have been hospitalized for different illnesses during the past year.

there have been only 800 such cases reported in the United States.

The illness is in reality a blood disease which deteriorates the kidney, medical research believes it is transmitted through the individual's mother.

A brother, Harold Gean, died four years ago at the age of 31 of the same illness.

During the three-month absence of the father, all three of the Gean children will be cared for by a friend of the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank (Ellouise) Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Val (Lillian) Burgess have voluntarily assisted the family and are making arrangements for the benefit dance as well as distributing the canisters. Those who wish to donate their services for any kind of help may contact Mrs. Clark at 877-2628.

Contributions are to be mailed in the name of Ray Gean to the American National Bank.

The blacktopping will require only minor patching and maintenance for 15 to 20 years and will represent a saving in maintenance costs, he added.

In other business, the council passed a resolution to borrow $25,000 from the First National Bank in Madison to meet payrolls in the general fund. Sanyk explained the village has $100,000 invested in a 30-day certificate which does not mature until March 31. It allowed to

Despo Is Appointed to New GC Steel Position

John G. Despo has been promoted from director of engineering to vice president — engineering of Granite City Steel Co. H. M. Love, president, announced today.

Despo came to Granite City Steel, a subsidiary of National Steel Corp., in 1959 as director of engineering in charge of the company's Engineering Department. He previously was manager of construction for the Chicago District of United States Steel Corp.

His appointment was effective yesterday.

A graduate of Worcester Polytechnic Institute in Worcester, Mass. (B. S. in civil engineering), Despo worked for the Massachusetts State Highway Department and Metropolitan Boston Water Supply Commission before he was employed in 1941 as an estimator for the American Steel and Wire Division of United States Steel.

Construction Superintendent
He became superintendent of construction in 1948 and later served as division superintendent — engineering and maintenance at various plants, as division engineer — projects and as assistant chief engineer of the division.

Despo was appointed assistant chief engineer — wire operations — United States Steel in 1964, and manager of construction, Chicago District, in 1968.

A registered professional engineer in Ohio, Despo is a member of the Association of Iron and Steel Engineers, the Eastern States Cane Oven and Blast Furnace Association, the National Association of Professional Engineers, and the Wire Association. He is married, has three children and lives at 3640 Seville Drive, Forestman.

Churches Unite for Lenten Services

During the next four Sunday evenings of Lent, Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road, and Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, 30th Street and Delmar Avenue, will join in Lenten meetings for the first time to become better acquainted and to deepen their church relationship.

Sessions will be held in each church, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. every Sunday Evening. Structures for youth and children and a nursery will be provided. The first session will begin with a dinner and the two ministers, Dr. L. Jim Antis of Central Christian and the Rev. Roy L. Baugh of Niedringhaus United Methodist will speak to the topic "Where we are together and where we are apart as Methodist and Disciples."

Following the presentation those present will break into small discussion groups to discuss the presentation. The Rev. Russell Wigfield, associate minister at Central Christian, will reconvene the group for dialogue.

Each of the four Sunday evening sessions will begin with a

Minor Fires Reported During Gusty Winds

Gusty winds and warm, dry temperatures routed Granite City firemen out Tuesday afternoon to answer about five minor alarms.

Burning lumber caused $100 damages to the building and $150 to the contents at the home of Malek Hagopian, 1631 Chestnut St., at 4 p.m. Firemen were on the scene an hour and 35 minutes.

About $30 loss to a garage owned by James Lyeria, 774 Washington Ave., was reported in a fire at 1:40 p.m. Firemen were out 20 minutes.

Damage of $600 was estimated to a 1968 auto owned by Dennis Young which caught fire at 2:30 p.m. at 2700 Washington Ave. The area was clear in 35 minutes.

Burning rubbish was reported on W. 26th Street at 2:05 p.m.

State Budgets $1.3 Billion for Education; Includes Financing for New Classrooms

Gov. Ogilvie's proposed 1973 budget calls for aid to local governments and schools totaling $2.331 billion.

This spending proposal compares to $1,003 million actually distributed in 1969.

Charts and tables in the massive budget book give details of the major distribution increases to 102 counties and to all cities of more than 15,000 population.

For 1973, aid to local public schools of $1,131 million outranks all other forms of financial assistance. The figure includes long-range financing of school construction.

Two sources new since 1969—sharing of the state income tax and an additional quarter-cent of the sales tax—will provide $161 million in no-strings aid in fiscal 1973.

The governor's message notes that this is nearly 25% of the total of all city and county taxes levied in 1969—after a three-year period in which property taxes increased 11% a year.

Tax Would Double
Taxes increasing at that rate would double every seven years.

State aid to all forms of education has more than doubled in the four years from 1969 to 1973—up 116% from $626 million to $836 million.

These figures include aid to common schools, junior colleges, and vocational and technical education.

Operating funds provided for junior colleges have tripled in four years—to $85 million for the coming year exclusive of $138 million in construction assistance.

To assist local school districts which have exhausted their bonding powers, $56 million is authorized, which will bring to more than 2,400 the number of local classrooms constructed since 1965 with interest-free state loans.

Other major components of the $2,331 million total of aid to localities are:

Transportation, including motor fuel tax sharing with counties, municipalities and townships, as well as mass transit and airport aid; $337 million, compared to $142 million in 1969.

Environmental protection through sewage plant construction; $330 million.

Total of the local share of the state sales tax: $275 million, compared to $152 million in 1969.

Sales Tax Share
Total of the local share of the state sales tax: $275 million, compared to $152 million in 1969.

Total of the local share of the state income tax: $83 million. Striking increases are shown in two significant areas, community-based mental health and public health programs, and programs to assist economic growth, housing, general public health, and juvenile delinquency protection.

The first group has increased 249% in four years, from $9 million to $31.4 million.

Second, housing has increased 61% from $1.9 million to $3.5 million.

Police said she was arrested at 4:45 p.m. yesterday in the 900 block of Greenwood Street on charges of fighting with a 17-year-old girl. The younger girl was referred to juvenile authorities.

Officers said 25 minutes later Miss Slaton was arrested in front of the Madison High School after allegedly striking another 17-year-old girl with her fists. The girl suffered injuries to her nose and both eyes, police said.

Miss Slaton was released on $25 bond and ordered to appear in court in Madison at 10 a.m. Wednesday, March 15.

Youth America's 'Greatest Treasure,' Speaker Tells Annual Y Dinner Meet

"Young people today are America's greatest treasure and organizations such as the YMCA need to be alert to their needs, which change more rapidly than often is recognized," Joseph H. Goldenherst, judge of the Illinois Supreme Court, told 120 members and friends of the Tri-City Area YMCA during the 54th annual dinner Tuesday evening.

Judge Goldenherst said the future of America is guided by today's youth and by the leaders we elect today. He encouraged his listeners to help elect public officials who believe in the "great principles of Americanism and who will demand equality for everyone."

Dr. E. W. Walton, new YMCA president, presided over the meeting. He presented a plaque of appreciation to Irvin Slate Jr., outgoing president, honoring Slate for his two years in that position.

Dr. Walton also presented a certificate to Frank Rea, outgoing board member, for his service, and announced similar certificates would be sent to outgoing members, Dr. Raymond Troyer and the Rev. David Maxton.

Other board members whose terms expired but who were elected to new three-year terms, were Dr. Chris V. Geroff, W. Theodore Overbeck, Steven W. Steinko, Glenn A. Wolfe and Slate.

KEYNOTE SPEAKER at the YMCA annual dinner Tuesday evening was Judge Joseph H. Goldenherst, judge of the Illinois Supreme Court, who told the 120 persons present that young people are "our greatest American treasure" and that the American YMCA is a major factor in encouraging youth to become responsible citizens.

Heath who replaced Dr. Walton as second vice-president; Dr. Geroff, secretary, replacing Troyer, and Henderson, replacing Steinko.

Presents Service Award Marvin E. Van Metre, executive director of the YMCA, gave a five-year service award to Betty Harmon and recognized several other employees for their service. Awards were presented to employees after each five years of service.

Employees with more than five years service introduced, and the number of years were: Earl Iberg, 29 years; Louis Serfas and Vera Kirkpatrick, 17 years; David Cunningham and Jackie Woods, 14 years; Marcella Herman, Ruben Mendoza and Dora Darnell, 11 years; Betty Fuchs, eight years; Lynn Rider and Leonard Chertok, seven years; and Michael Rapoff, six years.

Van Metre also introduced 12 service volunteers, including Dawn Voss and Barry Gibbs, volunteer aquatic leaders; Sue Mann, volunteer office worker, and Dorothy Fryntko, Jane Lambert, Kathy Weissenborn, Sharon Engleke, Mrs. Sandy Harper, Mrs. Donica Warren, Mrs. Cheryl Lusk, and Mrs. Aschcraft and Mrs. Shirley Kibort, Tri-Hi-Y Club advisors.

The annual report showed that 1,467 persons were YMCA members in 1971, including 1,153 men and 312 women. A total of 7,187 non-members were served in special programs.

A total of 10,210 teenagers attended 33 Teen Town dances during the year and more than 500 boys participated in the YMCA Soccer Association.

The Y's 70 residence rooms for men operated at 84% capacity during the year. The Y received a $500 grant from the United Fund, The St. Louis "Gluster" concept continued to grow with 14 associations, including the local Y, joining.

The sum of $400 was contributed to YMCA World Service by the local YMCA this year, after the successful sale of a book of recipes assembled by local women.

The invocation and benediction were delivered by the Rev. Don Bogue, pastor of United Methodist Church in Madison.

Governor Proposes 1973 Budget Expenditures of $6.04 Billion

(Related Story on Page 2) Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie yesterday unveiled budget proposals that call for state expenditures of $6.04 billion in the coming fiscal year.

Addressing a joint session of the General Assembly, Ogilvie declared: "This budget I am recommending to you is a tight budget... a sound budget... a balanced and progressive budget constructed to address the needs of all the people of Illinois."

"The budget calls for no new taxes — and let me repeat: I am opposed to any increase in any taxes."

Repeatedly referring to the state income tax enacted in 1969, Ogilvie said it has made possible many vital commitments, including a new proposal to provide $16 million for property tax relief next year for elderly homeowners and renters. He continued: "We are able to do this — without raising taxes and with expanded support for vital human services — because of the foresight and courage of the 75th General Assembly which passed the income tax."

Tax, Rental Relief Ogilvie said senior citizens will qualify for grants when their property taxes or rents exceed specified levels compared to their incomes. He continued: "For many persons, this relief will make it possible for them to remain in their own homes and apartments in their own communities to lead fuller lives."

"This program is but one of the steps that we must take to enhance the ability of older persons to lead fuller lives."

The governor warned legislators that further tax reform will take "vision and determination" and will be "difficult and often painful." He said: "Tax reform takes more than an announcement or the introduction of a bill. It cannot be completed in one or two legislative sessions.

"And if you are honest in your efforts, you cannot be all things to all men. You must face the pain of the changes that have to be made."

"Many of you have been doing exactly this for three years — with impressive results."

Ogilvie also put major emphasis on the need to enact personal property tax relief for farmers — with accompanying state aid to local tax relief bodies — and to the tax reform aspects of long-term financing.

He declared: "Prudent bond financing for capital improvements... is a reform in a real sense because it calls on future taxpayers to pay for their fair share of benefits."

The state's low debt and sound management, he said, quality state bonds for interest rates less than "the far higher costs of delay due to spiraling construction and land costs."

He continued: "You will be challenged again to reject the glib and short-sighted suggestion that major long-term projects can be financed on an immediate cash basis — that we can repeatedly meet the needs of today and tomorrow with such a narrow, halting approach."

The people know better. With such a philosophy, virtually nobody could buy a home, or own a farm and the equipment to run it, or build a new plant or a new school."

Ogilvie's proposed spending figure of $6.04 billion includes $689 million from bond proceeds. Total appropriations — the ceiling authority on all spending — are $7.68 billion, up nearly 12% over comparable fiscal 1972 authorizations, and include capital costs to be expended over several fiscal years.

Total proposed spending is up 13% to the $6.04 billion figure. The difference between this total and the appropriations total is caused mainly by the need to provide full appropriations for capital projects, even though the money will be spent during several fiscal years.

Agency operations spending estimates show the lowest rate of increase — 5% — while grants or pass-through programs for schools, welfare, anti-pollution and transportation are up 20%. Capital spending proposals are up 10%.

On the revenue side, which also totals $6.04 billion, federal aid in all forms is the largest single source — $1.454 billion, supplying 24% of the support for Ogilvie's expenditure proposals.

Education at all levels will take 34.3% of all expected revenue, health care and social services 19.1%, transportation 16.4%, income support for the indigent 15.9% and general government 8.5%.

The largest single increase in department or agency appropriation totals is for public aid, up $232 million over estimated fiscal 1972 spending to a total of $1,451 million for fiscal 1973.

A NEW WHEELCHAIR was donated to 9-year-old Tammy Rigney by VFW Post 1300 and Auxiliary in ceremonies Monday night. The child, who has been crippled since birth, received a wheelchair from the VFW three years ago, which she had outgrown. From left are Magnus Liesner, VFW commander; Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Minzes, the girl's grandparents; and Dolores Acosta, Auxiliary president.

Wheelchair Donated

To Crippled Child

Nine-year-old Tammy Rigney was the recipient of a new wheelchair Monday night donated by VFW Post 1300 and Auxiliary. It replaces one they gave her three years ago, which she had outgrown.

Tammy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rigney, 2624 Highway 67, has been crippled since birth with cerebral palsy.

The acquaintance lead to the women asking the VFW to join with them in purchasing a wheelchair for the little girl three years ago.

That wheelchair was returned to the VFW Monday night and immediately was loaned to the special education class at Lake School.

First Pre-Natal Class Monday Night

The first pre-natal instruction class for prospective parents will be conducted at 7:30 p.m. Monday at St. Elizabeth Hospital on the subject of "Before the Baby Comes."

Pre-registration is not required and there is no charge for the series of five classes to be held each Monday evening in the Women's Room on the first floor of the Binney Wing, near the chapel.

Sister Mary Jerome, class instructor will speak on, "During Pregnancy" on March 13; "Labor and Delivery" on March 20; "Child Care-Baby Bath" on March 27 and "Nutrition" on April 3. The instruction program will include movies, visual aids and open discussion.

A second series of pre-natal classes is scheduled April 17 through May 15 will cover the same subjects.

Pickpockets Steal Women's Wallets

Two women were reported to police Tuesday their wallets were stolen by pickpockets in a Madison grocery store.

Mrs. Kathryn Gulka, 1418 Iowa St., told police she was shopping at the store at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday and when she started to check out she noticed her purse had been opened and her wallet, containing $15 and personal papers, was missing.

Mrs. Rose Tirpach, 1121 Grand Ave., told police she was shopping at 4:30 p.m. when a woman reached around her to check the price of a can of coffee and after the woman left, Mrs. Tirpach noticed her wallet, containing $35 and personal papers, had been taken from her dress pocket.

Sociology Grads Aided By New Work Survey

In a period when "tight job market" is a common phrase and graduates with bachelor's degrees must compete with many others for teaching positions once their for the social sciences, the sociology department at Southern Illinois University Southwest has taken the initiative to help its graduates find work.

Richard Swaine, assistant professor of sociology and chairman of the department's placement committee, carefully selected more than 400 agencies in the metropolitan area he thought might be interested in hiring SIU-SW graduates with bachelor's degrees in sociology.

Questionnaires on job openings were sent to agencies several weeks ago and already Swaine has received more than 100 responses. A few agencies replied they are not interested in hiring persons with bachelor's degrees in sociology; others said they have no job openings now. But some agencies, including hospitals, church-affiliated private welfare organizations and state and federal welfare organizations, said they are ready to hire immediately.

"One agency said it could use ten employment counselors," Swaine said. "I've been impressed with the results so far. I keep hearing employment is tight, that there are no jobs—maybe it's true about the tight employment, but there appear to be jobs in our field."

Swaine said he has given information on specific job openings to some of the students in the department on the condition that the students report to Swaine on their success or failure in being hired.

"I think the faculty has a certain responsibility to help students find jobs, especially in professionally-oriented programs like social work," Swaine said.

Betty Crowther, chairman of the sociology department, said persons holding bachelor's degrees in sociology traditionally look for jobs in the human service area, which can mean lots of places. It's always been a bit of a mix kind of thing.

Miss Crowther said the questionnaire results should give the sociology department some help in data on agency needs for bachelor's and master's degree holders as well as aiding the 130 sociology majors enrolled at the University.

Judy Rinehardt to Be Nazarene College Grad

Judy Rinehardt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Rinehardt, 4136 Kaseberg Lane, Granite City, is a senior at Mid-America Nazarene College, Olathe, Kan., which will hold its first commencement on May 15 — four years after the college opened.

A class of 100 seniors from cities in 16 states will take part. Most of them enrolled as freshmen in 1968 as workmen on the 20-acre campus.

The college in four years grew to an enrollment of 812 students. It became the third largest among 21 private colleges in Kansas.

It now has 10 major buildings, including five dormitories, and a campus of 183 acres.

Four on Honor List at Missouri-Rolla

Four Granite City students earned places on the honor list for the fall semester at the University of Missouri-Rolla. They are James L. Fitzpatrick, 69 Holiday Mobile Park; James H. Hellrich and Linus H. Hellrich, 2447 Hodges Ave.; and Michael A. Pokarik, 2600 Adams St.

Crippled Children's Society Has Election

The Granite City Society for Crippled Children held its February meeting Monday evening at the Granite City Elks Club. New officers for 1972 were elected as follows:

President, Mrs. Lily Chaboude; vice-president, Ralph Astorian; secretary, Mrs. Reryl Stallings; and treasurer, Mrs. Juliann Burns.

An investigating committee was named. Members of this committee are Anthony Michel, William F. Kinder, Earl Frommberger, Lawrence Burns, Mrs. Fanny Epstein, Edwin Reiske, Ralph Astorian, Eugene Burnett, Linda Moore, Barbara Wink, and Mrs. Dorothy Neuniger.

There will be no more meetings of the Society until a dinner meeting in June.

Madison Lions Plan Pancake, Sausage Day

The Madison Lions Club will hold its annual pancake and sausage day March 26 at the Madison Recreation Center, Seventh and Lee streets, with serving from 7 a.m. until 1 p.m. It was announced today by Travis Rash, club president.

It will be the fifteenth consecutive year Madison Lions have hosted the event.

Rash announced that Avery Schermer again will serve as general chairman. Walter Gavell of Granite City will handle ticket sales.

The club expects to serve more than 1,200 people. Tickets are $1 for adults, 50 cents for children and are available from any Lion Club member.

Proceeds will be used to assist many community sponsored programs such as aid to the blind, the Khoury league and Explorer Post 10-4.

Miss Roxanne Howard Bride of Kerry Scrum

Miss Roxanne Howard, daughter of Robert L. Howard, 1832 Cleveland Blvd., and of Mrs. Lorraine Wetzel, 3506 Kirkpatrick Homes, was united in marriage Feb. 18 to Kerry Scrum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Scrum, 1619 Second St., Madison.

The Rev. Ross Smith officiated at the double-ring evening ceremony at the Briarcliff Pentecostal Church. Altar bouquets of white gladioli and red roses were used.

Mrs. Sandy Dillard presided at the organ as Debbie Travis, Myra Wallace and Dewayne Crowder sang, "We've Only Just Begun."

The bride chose a gown of sheer organza and Chantilly lace with an A-line effect. It had a high neckline and long, full bishop sleeves, with white satin ribbons running through the sleeves.

The Empire waist was complemented with white satin ribbon, lace and tiny bows. The detachable train was outlined with wide lace and ribbon.

A Camelot headpiece with elbow-length veil was worn and the bride carried a cascade of white mums.

Mrs. Jeannine Scrum, sister-in-law of the groom, was the matron of honor.

Miss Julie Wetzel and Miss Lorie Wetzel, sisters of the bride, served as junior bridesmaids.

Melissa Scrum, a niece of the groom, was flower girl. Kelly Scrum, a nephew of the groom, was ring bearer.

The honor attendant was in a ruffled velvet gown with scoop neckline and Empire styling. There were long bishop sleeves, complemented with multicolor trim on the sleeve cuffs and on the hem of skirt.

A matching headpiece of ruffled velvet, styled in a large bow and with matching veil, was worn.

Her bouquet was an arrangement of white mums.

The junior bridesmaids wore full-length lace gowns with loop skirts, scoop necklines and puff sleeves. Each skirt was trimmed with tiny ruffles with a white sash at the waist.

White ribbon trimmed with lilies of the valley served as headpieces. Pink mums were carried.

The flower girl was in white lace, featuring Empire styling and red velvet ribbon at the waistline. A train was attached at the back neckline and she carried a basket of pink mums.

The bride's mother chose a two-piece dress of light blue crepe with a full pleated skirt, and full-length accessories were worn.

The groom's mother selected a beige lace dress with accessories. White carnation corsages were worn.

A reception following the wedding was held at the Firemen's Hall in Madison.

The young couple will reside at 1003 McCambridge Ave., Madison, an SIU-SW student. He is a Madison volunteer fireman.

36 Students Compete in Styling Contest

Pat Sands was judged the top contestant in a student hair styling contest held Monday evening at Joseph School of Hair Fashions, 2100 Delmar Ave.

Joseph Stemmer, owner-operator of the local beauty school, presented a trophy to Miss Sands and to Susan Olsen, second place winner and Bonnie Wilimirth, third. Honorable mention was received by Lois Demarath.

Competition was in free form techniques, and students were judged on their adaptability of style, execution and creativity.

Helen Cochrum, school manager, served as commentator with Shirley Parks, an instructor, as a contest official.

Judges included Liz Gill and Merrilee Robinson, Golden Touch Beauty Salon, Cahokia; Caroline Pruitt and Dorothy Hatfield, Joseph's Hair Fashions; Shirley Waugh, Shiri's Hair Fashions, Pocahontas, Ill.; and June Smith from Joseph's Salon in Overland, Mo.

Other students taking part in the contest were Sandy Ybarra,

Hazel Wilson, Pat Morris, Kathy Buehler, Mary Andrews, Karen Allen, Anna Leonard, Debbie Avery, Joyce McKinney, Brenda Bowman.

Joyce Morgan, Jan LaDue, Opal Rigsan, Ruth Bird, Mary Bringer, Shelia Varner, Judy Conraux, Elizabeth Morrison, Herbert Kunkel, Jerri Kunkel, Pauline Turner, Inez Barrios, Judy Meyer, Ruby Meyer, Darlene Wakeford, Donna Wakeford, Alice McElvay, Peggy Thompson, Cindy Scott, Vonda Mayes and Diane Howell.

Council Seeks Solution to Treatment Plan Stalemate

Acting on a warning by its engineers that design work on the city's $15.3 million secondary sewage treatment plant might be suspended unless action was taken on procedural problems, the Granite City Council sought Monday night to resolve a stalemate as to who will be responsible for administration of the program.

In one step, the council authorized an estimated $3,400 expenditure for a soil exploration test to be made by the M.W. Inc., engineering firm of St. Louis, the city's special engineer for the sewage treatment program.

The soil exploration contract, which the M.W. engineers say is necessary to preparation of working plans for the secondary sewage treatment plant, was held up several weeks ago when Mayor Donald Partney suggested the engineers first check over original plans for the present sewage treatment plant to see if they might provide the necessary information on borings.

On 20-Acre Tract

The new treatment facilities will be located on a 20-acre tract adjoining the present plant at the Granite City Army installation. A lease of the 20-acre tract now is under negotiation with the Offices of General Administration.

Payment of the $46,450 in fees claimed by the engineers a month ago also was held up when neither Partney nor William N. Nann, chairman of the council's Pollution Plant Committee, would sign checks on the payment. The mayor has said he will have nothing to do with administration of the treatment program.

Nann claims he has no authority to sign checks or any other documents, even though Mayor Partney filed with City Clerk Robert Stevens a statement granting Nann the authority to use the mayor's signature in matters pertaining to the program.

As a result of these difficulties, the M.W. engineering firm told the city council by letter Monday night that the controversy is delaying progress on the treatment project. The letter said, in part:

"We are writing this letter to call your attention to a stalemate on city action relative to the design work for the pollution plant changes and additions. At your last meeting (Feb. 21) our letter of Feb. 17 was read and a motion passed to proceed. Since that time we have received concurrence from the public engineer for Granite City in the necessary soil exploration program of soil exploration.

Met With Mayor

"In meeting with Mayor Partney on Friday, and with the chairman of the Pollution Plant Committee, Walter Nann, on Saturday, neither party will approve this soil exploration contract with Raymond International, Inc., or sign warrants for engineering fees approved and due."

"The assignment of this authority by the mayor was occasioned by council action not related to the design work of M.W. Inc. and in the absence of the chairman of the Pollution Plant Committee. We request written instructions advising us who is the responsible party who will act for the city of Granite City in carrying out our contract."

"If this stalemate is not resolved rather quickly, M.W. Inc. will be forced to suspend further design and therefore cause additional delay of this important project."

Alderman Nann persisted Monday night in his refusal to sign checks or documents for the treatment program.

"This is the mayor's job," Nann remarked. "The mayor is bonded to perform this sort of service. The aldermen are not."

Will Pay Fees

Mayor Partney said after the meeting, however, that he will sign the check for the engineering fees due the M.W. firm, and indicated he will execute other documents "so long as the money is available and set up in a legal fund."

The mayor said his refusal to sign checks in the past was based on the absence of a fund for such expenditures. He maintained it is not legal procedure to draw expenditures for the treatment plant project directly against other accounts without first transferring the money into a special fund.

Council members Monday night also referred to the city attorney who has been appointed by the council, over the mayor's protest, as bond attorney for the treatment program. The city plans to issue $3 million in revenue bonds to finance initial construction work on the treatment facilities and interceptor sewers.

MORE ABOUT Salvation Army

to test her for pregnancy her name would be on the specimen sent to the hospital.

Her mother's sister worked in the hospital kitchen and would be bound to find out, the girl decided.

Dilemma Is Common

The dilemma in which the 15-year-old school girl found herself is repeated scores of times each day in the U.S.

After meeting and being involved in meetings with an unsympathetic reaction from parents, school nurse or family physician are characteristic of a young girl faced with a problem which seems insurmountable—even to the belief that her aunt, a hospital kitchen employee, would learn of the pregnancy test.

The mother she worries about the possibility of pregnancy the less likely she will find out for sure for a few more weeks, until she seeks professional help.

In many cases, the girl becomes so desperate that somehow she obtains the funds and visits a quickie abortion facility where—for $200 to $400, depending on the length of pregnancy—she risks serious infection, chronic ailments and disorders, possible sterilization and death.

On the other hand, if she delays finding out the condition and waits to tell her parents, an abortion, if possible or wanted, soon is out of the question.

Information Available

The mental agony and feeling of despair can be greatly reduced for local girls needing help by a new service started in the Quad-Cities by the Salvation Army.

Several services are offered unmarried mothers-to-be and girls unsure of their physical condition at the Salvation Army office, 1329 Nineteenth St.

An extension of the services provided at the Salvation Army's Booth Memorial Hospital in St. Louis, the program here is geared to any woman or girl who is pregnant out of wedlock.

Mrs. Kathryn Jeffries, a social worker-counselor, is available for consultation at the local SA office each Wednesday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. An appointment can be made in advance by calling 431-7857.

In part, the services available consist of confirmation tests for pregnancy, birth control and family planning and information concerning Booth Memorial Hospital, where unmarried girls can have their babies and continue their high school education during the period of confinement.

Disease Testing

Also available are a testing process for venereal diseases, another spiraling problem among today's young people, and abortion counseling.

Mrs. Jeffries emphasized that counseling and services offered here and at Booth Memorial Hospital are equally extended to girls and women who want to keep their babies and those who relinquish the child for adoption after birth.

Mrs. Fern Hornberger, director of social services at Booth Hospital, a former Granite City resident, is coordinating the counseling-information program here.

Survey Results

Pregnancies among girls in junior and senior high schools in Illinois increased by nearly 10% in the single year of 1969-70.

A study completed by the office of State School Superintendent of Public Instruction Michael J. Bakalis indicates that in the last full school year, 4,200 girls became pregnant—though the statistical expert who compiled the report estimates that the real total is probably at least double that figure.

Chicago schools were not included in the survey.

The report also shows that more pregnancies occur in large schools than in small ones, that the rate is higher in rural than in urban areas, and that, percentage-wise, fewer girls are dropping out of school when they become pregnant.

1,285 Schools Respond

In compiling statistics for the survey, officials noted that usable results were returned by approximately 80% of the schools, which reported 368,044 female students enrolled between grades six and 12.

These schools reported 2,945 pregnancies in the 1969-70 school year and 3,421 for the 70-71 year.

Projected to a full 100% of the schools, the figure would be nearly 4,300 pregnancies last year, officials said, adding that there is a traditional tendency among school administrators to be overly conservative in dealing with the situation.

This aspect makes Dr. James Howard of the research and development division of the state superintendent's office believe that the figures probably are less than 50% of the actual number.

Dr. Howard said that reporting difficulties also arise because some students drop out of school without giving any Arrested in addition to Jones were William L. Perry, 18, of 711 Twenty-seventh Place; Billy Ray Norton, 17, of 719 Twenty-sixth Place; Jackie R. Harris, 17, of Glen Carbon; Ivan E. Dennis, 17, of 711 Ashland Ave.; Harold S. McElroy, 18, of 3047 St. Clair Ave.; Danny C. Taylor, 18, of 125 Briarcliff.

Darrell G. Williams, 19, of 2621 Circle Drive; Terry L. Wickham, 17, of 2836 Denwood St.; Kenneth L. Italian, 19, of 2100 Rock Road; David E. Carter, 18, of 2009 Nanketti Drive; Clinton B. Whitford, 21, of 281 W. 22nd St.; Wiley O. Perrin, 20, of 2036 Ohio Ave.; and Terry D. Gargac, 21, of 2347 Rock Road.

Six of the defendants appeared in court yesterday afternoon. Carter and Taylor pleaded guilty and were fined $200 plus costs, and $100 of the fines stayed, and were released. Entering innocent pleas were Harris, Dennis, Johnson and White.

reason, some give reasons other than the truth, some schools fail to keep such records and "abortion are increasing dramatically," which results in many cases not being reported at all or being classed as something other than pregnancies.

"We have offered the same service in other locations for some time," Mrs. Hornberger said in discussing the program here. "The number of referrals and inquiries we have received at Booth Hospital from this area prompted us to start the counseling service in the Quad-Cities."

Warriors Down Roxana 68-48, Play for Regional Championship Friday Night

Granite City High School's basketball Warriors bought a ticket to its own regional championship game Friday by defeating Roxana 68-48 Tuesday.

The Warriors will meet Collinsville, which came from behind to defeat Edwardsville 77-68 last night, for the regional title and advancement to the Edwardsville Class AA Sectional Tournament next week.

Roxana made it to the semifinals by defeating Highland 58-53 in the first game of the tourney Monday night.

The local Warriors got off to a slow start Tuesday and were behind 15-8 at the end of the first quarter, and at halftime Roxana still led 28-26.

The third quarter saw the Warriors take to the floor with a vengeance. Joe Wallace hit seven for seven in the third period, six from at least 25 feet out and one layup.

Wallace caused the Roxana Shells to change their defense and go to "box one" play. They put a man on Wallace in an attempt to stop him. That is defense normally used to try to stop Warrior Terry Ripka who remained out of action due to an ankle injury.

In the third quarter the fans saw the Warriors begin to play an effective defense, and their press took effect. Roxana was held to seven points as GCHS racked up 22 to take a lead of 48-35 going into the final period.

When asked what he said to the team at half time to spruce them up, Warrior Coach Don Deterding said, "I may have raised my voice a little, but the team's pride got a hold of them and they realized what poor ball they had been playing in the first half."

"At this stage of the game

Sanford-Brown Takes Crown

The Sanford-Brown College Indians have completed their regular season by winning the Greater St. Louis College Conference crown with a 12-0 record.

Three Illinois-area players helped the Indians take the title the second year in a row. Against Tech, guard Greg Jones of Granite City took scoring honors with a season high of 41 points, hitting 18 out of 24 from the field.

Rich Jackson of Venice totaled 23 points, followed by former Loyole of Brooklyn star, came through with 27 points and 21 rebounds.

The Indians finished their regular season with 10-2 conference and 14-11 overall records.

Sanford-Brown will play the winner of the St. Louis Christian College-Pharmacy game Friday in the Christian College gym in the semifinals of the fourth annual Greater St. Louis College Conference Tournament. The finals will be at 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

Dismal Cougar Showing Reviewed for Season

The 1971-72 Southern Illinois University-Southwestern basketball season is now history, a disappointing 5-21 record and a season of close, but so far. Sad as the overall record was for Coach Jim Dudley and his Cougar cagers, the season did end on a happy theme with a 92-65 victory Saturday over Indiana State University of Evansville.

Two things stand out about the season. The Cougars played a very tough schedule, and lack of accuracy at the free-throw line cost the Cougars several games.

The SIU-SW All-Opponent team will very probably be almost the same roster as the NCAA college division All-American squad.

Named by the Cougars to their all-opponent team were George Gervin, Eastern Michigan, whose 30.3 points per game in 34 games places him fifth in the nation; John "The Hawk" Hamilton, Louisiana State University's all-around star; Mike Green, Louisiana Tech's 6-10 standout offensive and defensive ace; Kelton Griffin, Southwest Baptist's brilliant performer who scored 39 points against SIU-SW; Jim Kopp, Rockhurst College's ace who poured in a record 50 points against the Cougars; and Earl Dixon of Eastern Michigan University's Hurons.

From the field, SIU-SW was only outscored 593-to-852, but the story from the free-throw line was a very dismal spread of 431 made to their opponents' 533.

The brightest development of the season for the Cougars' future was the play of junior guard Tony Johnson. He led SIU-SW scoring with a 17.5 per game average and he also logged the most playing time, 68-59 minutes of a possible 1,040. Most of that time was pressure time as Johnson brought the ball down court against some great defensive clubs. Johnson's 129 assists was the best for the Cougars.

Denny Thronburg's performance at the other guard spot, after he had undergone a knee operation in mid-October, was another hopeful sign for next season. He finished with runner-up scoring honors with 13.9 per game in 23 games.

Injuries Hamper Team
Thronburg's injury was only one of many which hampered the Cougars over at least 50% of the season. Only in the last five games was Dudley able to start a regular line-up.

Third highest scorer for the Cougars was their 6-8 senior, Gene Bounds, with a 13.3 figure. He led all SIU-SW rebounders with a season high of 180. Three other seniors, Jerry Bloomer, Otis Ward and Dave James, will be lost to the Cougars.

Coming back with Johnson and Thronburg will be Sam Holmes, Frank Ramsey, Jerry Blaudoux, Roy Witthoft, Steve Hutchison, Terry Fralley and Butch Ferree. Fralley and Ferree are freshmen.

Dudley faces a building job if SIU-SW is to successfully play a rugged schedule such as it has just completed, and the even tougher one slated for the 1972-73 campaign. The Cougars will open their season next December by traveling to Madison, Wis., to battle the Badgers of the University of Wisconsin of the Big Ten Conference.

Police Committee Meets
Pontoon Beach Mayor Otto Kreber has called a special meeting of the village police committee for this evening in the police department's mobile home to discuss the hiring of a new full-time police dispatcher. Among the candidates to be discussed is a woman village resident.

1971-72 an Outstanding Season For Coach Schmitt's Matmen

Sixteen Granite City High School wrestlers will be presented letters in their hands in bringing the school and the team a record number of honors this year.

Coach Bill "Red" Schmitt's matmen had an 18-0 undefeated season in dual meet competition and were the champions in five major meets.

The Warriors won the Jacksonville and Hazelwood tournaments, their 14th consecutive conference trophy, their 15th consecutive district crown and were tops in the sectional here for the 18th time in 19 tries.

They also were runners-up in the Holiday Tournament and the Southwest Invitational, losing by two points each time.

The team extended Schmitt's record against Southern Illinois teams to 164 consecutive victories. Of more than 350 teams in the state, the Warriors were one of 113 who earned spots in the state finals and finished in 17th position with two Warriors placing, second and sixth, in the finals.

Wilson Point Leader
The superstar of this year's crop was senior Doug Wilson (138) who broke the state record for the number of victories in one season with a 43-2 mark. Wilson lost his first match, the season in the Jacksonville tournament and recovered for 43 consecutive victories before being dethroned by the defending state champion in the finals of the State tournament. He finished second in the state.

Wilson's achievements also re wrote the school's record books with 46 wins in one season, the record held jointly by Bill Fuchs (1967) and Bob Miller (1969). Wilson also accumulated 194½ team points, breaking the former record of 180 held by Fuchs. Of his 43 victories, 22 were by pins.

Wilson, who will accept his second wrestling letter, was the champion in the Ritenour, Hazelwood, Southwest, conference, district and sectional tournaments.

In two years of wrestling for Schmitt, Wilson won 75 matches, 33 by pins, lost 13, had two draws and accumulated 318½ points. Last season he tied for the top in team points and was fourth in the state.

Kalret Second
Second in the team point standings this season was senior Tom Kalret (185) with 33 victories, 18 by pins, five losses for 158½ points. Kalret was champion in the Jacksonville, Holiday, Hazelwood, conference and district meets. In two years of wrestling, he has accumulated 54 wins, 20 losses and 227½ team points. Kalret will receive his second letter.

Also earning his second letter is senior Craig Stephens (heavyweight), who placed third in team points with 147½ this season. Stephens won 34 bouts, 25 by pins, three draws and 10 times, and was the champion in the Jacksonville, Hazelwood, conference and district meets and was second in the sectional, making him a state qualifier.

In two years of wrestling, Stephens racked up 40 victories, 28 by pins, had 13 losses and one draw for 174½ points.

Fourth in the team standings was Kerry Johnson (119) who won 19 bouts, with 17 falls, and suffered six losses and two draws for 144½ points. He was fifth at Jacksonville, Ritenour, Hazelwood, the conference and district meets and was third in the sections and was third in the sectional here for the 18th time in 19 tries.

Johnson to Return
Johnson, a junior, wrestled last year, winning two matches and losing three for five points. He will return next year, a veteran of two years of experience. He earned his second wrestling letter.

Kevin Niebur (126) earned the fifth spot on the Warrior team standings with 135 points. He won 34 matches, eight by pins, and lost five. He was champion at Jacksonville, Hazelwood and the Holiday tournament and in the conference, district and sectional competition. He finished sixth in the state finals.

Other Warriors who earned team points this season and number of victories, pins, losses, draws and points were Gary Loy (165), a junior, 27-8-7-1;

John Niebur (112), a sophomore, 7-1-1-31; Pat Mac Millan, a sophomore, 6-1-0-25; Andy Mofsky (155), 5-2-10-12; and John Vedisian, a sophomore, 0-0-1-2.

Also competing at the varsity level but not earning points were Tom Huff and sophomores John Hankins, Don Heath and Scott Mangan.

Letter Winners
Besides the top five wrestlers, letters were earned by Loy, Ragan, Miller, Lapinski, Schooley, Paschedag, John Niebur, MacMillan, Mofsky, Huff, and Gene Doyle, team manager.

The team won 348 matches, 143 by pins, lost 118 and had 10 draws. Total team points accumulated in the season was 1,453 as compared to 1,078 last season.

Prospects are excellent for another outstanding year next year as Johnson, Loy, Ragan, and Schooley are expected to return as seniors and Lapinski, John Niebur, MacMillan, Vedisian, Hankins, Don Heath, and Mangan may return as juniors.

divisions, East Madison, Cloverleaf and State Park Place are in Nameoki; and the Benjamin subdivision and Eagle Park Acres are in Venice Township. Unincorporated areas not served by sanitary sewers rely on individual septic tanks, although the soil is not conducive to septic systems.

The poor absorption qualities of the soil contribute to the flow of sewage on the surface of the ground and into lakes and water courses, creating health hazards.

It is hoped to meet requirements of the next 50 years, including present needs and encouragement of extensive residential, commercial and industrial growth.

Horseshoe Lake and Long Lake are the major bodies of water in the Quad-Cities. Drainage is provided by ditches or canals maintained by the Chouteau, Nameoki and Venice Drainage and Levee District. The County Drainage and Levee District and the East Side Levee and Sanitary District.

Areas presently served by sanitary sewers include: Meadow Lake subdivision, Sun and Fun trailer park, Edwards trailer park and the Quet Valley and Lakeshire subdivisions at Pontoon Beach, all served by extended lagoons; Mitchell Grade School and Arlington Heights subdivision, both served by extended lagoons; and Greenboro and Holiday mobile home parks, both served by contact stabilization with filtration and chlorination.

Most existing sewer systems which discharge into separate systems, and were eventually would be intercepted, with their waste treated by the Granite City plant.

Extension of the Arlington Heights development, which has its own treatment works. When required, discharge to the city of Collinsville for treatment is believed to be logical for Arlington.

Sanitary sewers to serve the proposed Horseshoe Lake State Park are expected to be connected to the existing Lansdowne interceptor sewer.

Financing of the township program would be through revenue bond proceeds and collection of tap-on charges.

Assistance is anticipated from federal and state funds administered by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency and U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Federal and state environmental agencies can participate in the cost of intercepting sewer lines and lift stations to the extent of 80% (state 25% and U. S. 55%).

The U. S. Housing and Urban Development Department can participate to the extent of 50% of the cost of eligible collector sewers.

Appropriations for the federal share of pollution abatement facilities hinge on Congressional appropriations. Proceeds from bonds are currently available for state participation.

Cost estimates take into account the length and average depth of various diameters of sewers, soil and ground water conditions, proximity of structures, proposed sewer locations, etc.

William Walters, 84, Venice Resident, Dies

Williams Walters, 84, of 1289 Klein St., Venice, a retired railroad employee, died at 5:10 a.m. today, at the Chateau Nursing Home in Highland, Ill.

A lifelong resident of Venice, Mr. Walters had been a patient of the nursing home since three months.

He retired in 1955 from the G&O Railroad where he had worked 45 years. He was a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen of America.

His wife, Mrs. Kathryn Walters, was a daughter of Mrs. Eugene (Melba) Elgan of Venice and two grandchildren, Mrs. John (Virginia) Glitch of Venice, and Eugene Elgan of Affton, Mo., and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Miskelley Files for Madison School Board

David Miskelley, 1801 Third St., Madison, filed a petition of candidacy at 2:45 p.m. Tuesday for election to the Madison School Board on April 8.

Miskelley is one of three candidates seeking the two board seats presently held by William Yavva, school secretary, and William Schreiber. Neither had filed as candidates for re-election today.

The city of Madison District 9, incumbents Arthur L. Metcalf and L. Monroe Worthen have filed and six others have announced names to file.

Two incumbent members of the Venice Board of Education, William Rumpf and Willie C. Johnson, have filed and thus far are unopposed for re-election.

bid prices on recent similar projects in the vicinity, special construction difficulties due to highways and railroads, and prevailing and projected wage rates.

In Chouteau and Nameoki Townships, soil borings have been made to determine the character of the soil in which sewer pipe lines are to be placed and the elevation at which ground water will be encountered.

The soil boring data indicates that water is encountered at varying depths, depending on the location.

Generally speaking, in the Pontoon Beach area, water levels have been recorded at 48½ feet from sea level, while along the Cloverleaf area water levels are at 400 feet of elevation.

The almost level terrain of the area to be served is believed to require a number of lift stations, with locations selected to:

1. Insure economical construction of the sewer system (dewatering of sewer trenches during construction is costly).

2. Assure economical house service connections without the necessity of costly trench construction.

3. Insure that infiltration by water will be held to a minimum (since the sewage treatment charge will be by the gallon or cubic foot, townships users will pay for infiltration).

If the money should be withdrawn now, only 3% interest, or $500, would be collected. The $700 difference in interest more than covers the $145 interest that will be charged on the loan, Sasyk explained.

The council approved bills for Feb. 13 to Feb. 26 period totaling $18,972, including salaries.

A report on the recent Needs Evaluation, Procedure, Services of the Illinois State Highway Department from George H. Shanahan of Sheppard Morgan & Schwaab was read. The report informed the council of a new state program to collect data on city streets.

He said cities will be asked to participate in the program and to submit data on all streets to the state. Surveys and necessary work may be financed from motor fuel tax funds, he reported.

The council gave permission for three juvenile officers to attend the Governor's Conference on Youth Conference, Thursday, March 9, in East St. Louis. The cost is $3 per person. Sgt. William Fanning, chief juvenile officer, Sgt. Norris Horton and Patrolman Charles Bridick will attend.

The council also approved plans for the annual Seal campaign in the city Feb. 20 to April 2, including the annual Lilly Days sale in the business district March 24 and 25.

The aldermen were informed that Elks Lodge 1063 will again hold 'Laid and Order Week' in the Quad-Cities April 14 to 20.

Mrs. Sasyk congratulated members of the volunteer fire department, ladies city auxiliary and other groups who participated in the Seal campaign.

708 Board Considers Hiring Coordinator

The Madison County Mental Health (708) Board, meeting last night, agreed to hire a consulting firm to evaluate the county mental health operation and recommend the hiring of a coordinator or administrator.

David Bachheim, the former coordinator, was dismissed in September after six months in that position.

Last night's special meeting was called with the express purpose of hiring a new coordinator, but after a short discussion it was decided unanimously to have the needs of the department studied before taking action. The board did agree to advertise this week for applicants to fill the coordinator or administrator post as soon as the study has been completed.

Representatives of consulting firms will address the board at its next meeting Monday, March 13.

License Plates to Be Made in Illinois Again

Secretary of State John W. Lewis has announced that the manufacture of Illinois license plates will be returned to the state and provide a boost to the labor-depressed Freeport area. A bid opening was held for the manufacture of 1972 auto plates and 1973-74 truck plates. Secretary Lewis said the low bidder was the Strucko Division of King-Seely-Thermon Co. of Freeport. The only other bidder was the Metal Stamping Co. of Conway, Ark., which produced the plates the last two years. Secretary Lewis stated, "I am tremendously pleased that we can have the plates manufactured in Illinois and with a further reduction in cost." Lewis stated that this is the second consecutive year in which substantial savings have been made in the bidding for the manufacture of Illinois license plates. In 1971 the savings amounted to more than $368,000 and in 1972 additional savings of $148,000 will be realized, making a total savings of about $500,000 in a two-year period, he said.

The secretary said, "The major factor in the reduction of the cost of plates was made possible by changing the warehouse operation, delivery operation and central accounting. Further savings should be realized in the state when the new Motor Vehicle Services building in Springfield begins its operation in the fall of 1972."

Fred W. Voss, vice-president and general manager of Strucko, said that being awarded the license contract means that an employee will be hired plus stabilizing employment of present employees who would otherwise be laid off due to seasonally low orders.

Strucko is one of the largest manufacturers of toy trucks and charcoal barbecue grills in the United States. The employees are members of the International Association of Machinists Union.

Secretary Lewis stated that the license plate cost for next year would be forest green on white.

Local Residents Aid Arizona Indian School

Six area residents have returned from a "vacation with a purpose" as part of a work crusade to the Southwest Indian School in Glendale, Ariz., operated by the World Gospel Mission.

They joined 24 other volunteers who represented eight different states and several different denominations to give their services for ten days. The men in the group made cabinets, painted and poured a concrete road, while the ladies served as teachers' aides, in library work, sewing and assisting in the kitchen.

Those participating in the unusual vacation were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sexton from the Dewey Avenue United Methodist Church, Mrs. Becky Keim and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Nichols from St. Luke's United Methodist Church in Maryville, and Mrs. Lennie Perotka from the Caseyville United Methodist Church.

Mr. Nichols, who is a realtor with the Reinhardt Insurance Agency, and his wife, participated in a similar crusade last year to Bogota, Colombia, South America.

Mrs. Perotka has worked on other Indian projects for the Navajo Methodist Mission School in New Mexico and Mrs. Keim is a student at SIU-SW. She works at Kibbel's Kindergarten in Collinsville. Mr. Sexton is employed as a bus driver for the Bi-State Transit System.

The Crusade was sponsored by the Missionary World Service and Evangelism, directed by the Rev. Maurice Stevens, a Methodist evangelist with the Kentucky conference.

Farm Program Signup To End on March 10

According to Lee Rogers, Madison County of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, sign-up for wheat and feed grain programs will end March 10.

To date, more than 1,300 farmers are signed up, he said, and another 1,000 are expected during the last few days of sign-up. With this many farmers yet to come in, the best bet is to come in as soon as possible to avoid a long waiting line, Rogers added.

Judging from past experience, the largest number came in during the final days of the enrollment period, so the way to beat the rush is to come in now, Rogers said.

New options for additional acreage and higher payment rates make these the most attractive programs we have ever offered, Rogers said, and producers who could never participate in prior years are signing up this year.

We expect to be busy right up to the final day so producers should be prepared to wait their turn for service. Producers are also reminded that measurement service is again available at a nominal cost. The earlier this service is requested, the earlier the set-aside inspection and measurement service can be performed, Rogers said.

Parents of Hearing Impaired Hold Meet

The Southwest Regional Parent Group for Hearing Impaired Children held its monthly meeting at the Lake School cafeteria.

President Steve Gargac informed the group of two-county advisory committee hearings, the first at the Lewis and Clark restaurant and the second in Edwardsville. Committee chairman is Dr. William Whiteside, director of special education at SIU-SW.

Gargac urged the members to attend in their area, as the purpose of the hearings is to hear the views of parents and school personnel.

Jim Sloan, supervisor of the hearing impaired program, related plans for clustering three primary classes this fall in Madison County. The location has not been decided.

Larry Daisley and Sandra Grots, secretary, reported results of a meeting of the executive committee and the group's attorney. Coffee and doughnuts were served to the parents, teachers and guests, including John Collier, Region II director of special education, and Larry Dow, supervisor of the trainable educable program in Granite City. The next meeting is scheduled for March 29 at Lake School.

Recer, Caton Fined $15 in Pontoon Case

Fred Rezer, Pontoon Beach Village Trustee, and Leslie Caton, a businessman, were fined $15 each in Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville Monday after pleading guilty to charges of failing to register under the assumed business name act.

Rezer, operator of Certified Welding Co., and Caton, president of Caton Enterprises, were charged following a grand jury investigation into activities in Pontoon Beach and Nameoki Township.

Still pending against Rezer are five counts of an indictment charging conflict of interest. Also pending are charges of gambling against Nameoki Township Supervisor Louis Whitsell, Pat Luchini, township social worker, and Mike Roppe, head of the Truth ad Action Party, for allegedly conducting a political raffle. Attempts are being made to have the gambling charges placed on the court's March 20 docket.

Whitsell, Wood River Township Supervisor Robert Elbie and a newspaper reporter, Joe Meisod, also face contempt of court citations.

Billy Welu Speaker At GC Rotary Meeting

The Granite City Rotaryans were honored with an unexpected celebrity guest speaker when Billy Welu, former professional bowling champion and currently a television newscaster, appeared at the club's weekly luncheon meeting Tuesday at the YMCA.

Harold Bauman, program chairman, had arranged for Ed Hagan, sports coordinator for the Falsstaff Brewery, to speak. When Welu arrived in St. Louis on a business trip he accepted Hagan's invitation to accompany him to the Granite City meeting.

Welu spoke on the early days of professional bowling that involved only one large national tournament. He recalled the "barnstorming and hustling" that took place, indicating that there was a large amount of money available to those who worked for it in this particular sport.

The visiting speaker was a charter member of the American Bowling Association and was active on the professional circuit until the mid 1960's when he retired from active bowling. He captured all-pro all-American honors and was a familiar face to television viewers for many years. After his retirement as an active participant in bowling he accepted an invitation from the American Broadcasting Co. network to telecast bowling events.

The tall Texan currently is doing the Saturday afternoon Pro-Bowlers Tour with Chris Shenkel.

Rotary president Alfred Froemming presided at the meeting which was attended by 30 Rotaryans and their guests. He announced that next week's meeting program will feature the induction of several new members.

49 Air Force Men Earn SIU-SW Master Degree

Forty-nine more members of the United States Air Force have graduated from Southern Illinois University - Southwest's Advanced Graduate Program at Military Airlift Command bases and have received their masters in business administration degrees at commencements held during the last two weeks.

Wednesday at the Air Force Base in the Axtres, 11 received their degrees. The group heard a commencement address by Dr. Howard Dye, dean of SIU-SW's Graduate School.

Last Sunday, 27 graduated at the Charleston, S. C., Air Force Base. Dr. Andrew Kochman, vice-president and provost, gave the commencement address.

The other 11 graduates, from Travis Air Force Base in California, received their degrees Feb. 18. Dr. Warren Joseph, assistant vice-president, was the speaker.

Home Nursery to Close Here; To New Location

Home Nursery Greenhouses, Inc., will close its Granite City shop at 2000 Madison Ave. tomorrow and move its business to the Home Nursery store in Wood River, Wayne Shelton, store manager, announced today.

Home Nursery was operated for many years by the late Harvey Baile until his death early in 1968, when the business was taken over by his children. The store manager today expressed his thanks to his customers and urged them to visit the store at Ninth Street and Edwardsville Road in Wood River. A toll-free number, ENTERPRISE 5351, is available, he said.

Crime Reduction Goal of New Madison Programs

Two programs designed to further reduce crime in Madison were presented to the city council Tuesday night. The first program urges residents to have their valuables etched with their social security numbers to help police identify stolen merchandise. The other program suggests that all stores, schools and churches in the city install a new "silent" burglar alarm system to give police a better chance of catching robbers and burglars at the scene of the crimes.

Mayor Mike Sasyk set Saturday, March 18, as "Operation Identification Day" for residents to have their social security numbers etched on their valuables. He said the police and Madison Explorer Post 10-4 would be at the police station that day to put identifications on television sets, stereos, musical instruments, bicycles and all other valuables. There will be no charge, Sasyk said.

May Borrow Tool
He said those unable to bring the items into the station to be marked will be able to borrow a marking tool to use at home after that. For those who wish them, window and door decals also will be available. These inform potential burglars that all valuables in the house have been marked with identifying numbers, Sasyk said.

Under the burglar alarm program all businessmen and churches in the city, and the board of education, is urged to purchase and install the new-type burglar alarm systems.

The alarms, when tripped, automatically dial the Madison police department by telephone and play tape-recorded messages explaining the location and nature of the crime. The police can then dispatch squad cars to the locations in an attempt to catch the thieves in the buildings.

Silent System
The system is silent and in most cases, the burglar does not know that he has started it. Available are door trips, fire sensors, robbery buttons and window protectors, any of which, if tripped, will start the alarm.

The units also will be available to individuals for home protection. An example is an invalid, ill or elderly person who could have a button which, when pressed, would alert police to send help or an ambulance.

Sasyk said the units cost an average of $350 each, installed. The cost increases with the number of sensors installed. He said he feels most businessmen

Four to Be Honored By Lincoln Academy

A poet, an educator, a chemist, and an entertainer will be honored by the Lincoln Academy of Illinois at its eighth annual convocation and ball in Springfield May 20. Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie, president of the Academy, announced yesterday. The poet is Mark Van Doren; the educator, David Dodds Henry; the chemist is Percy Julian and the entertainer, Jack Benny.

"The Lincoln Academy was founded in 1963 to recognize outstanding contributions made by living Illinois citizens toward the social, cultural, and technological progress of mankind," Ogilvie said.

"I heartily concur with the selection of these four distinguished sons of Illinois by the Academy trustees. Each is eminently worthy of the honor for demonstrated by his life what one individual can do to promote the betterment of humanity."

The four will be invested with the Order of Lincoln and join the 64 Illinoisans previously elected Laureates of the Academy during ceremonies in the chamber of the Illinois House of Representatives.

Woman, 70, Hit by Car, Driver Blinded by Sun

Mrs. Mae Smith, 70, of 2707 Cayuga St., was injured when she stepped from the curb and was knocked down by an auto driven by Richard L. Greer, 3024 Circle Drive, as he was turning left from 19th St. on Edison Avenue at 3:40 p.m. Tuesday. He said he was blinded by the sun.

Mrs. Smith was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment of superficial lacerations to the nose, abrasions to the left knee and pains in the left thigh bone and was released after x-rays proved negatives.

Charged With Theft

Carrie B. Harris, 31, of 205 Garner Road, Venice, was arrested in Venice at 8:45 p.m. Tuesday and charged with theft. Harris allegedly took the radiator from a car in the salvage yard of Charlie Walton, 513 Garner Road, several months ago, police said Harris was released on a notice to appear in court in Madison at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, March 15.

will purchase the units as estimates indicate insurance rates will be reduced almost one-half for businesses with the alarms.

He said insurance rates for Madison businesses now are about $65 per year, per $1,000 valuation, and most businesses could save enough in insurance costs to pay for the units in four to five years.

Alderman Dick Kismar suggested the idea be referred to the police committee to schedule a meeting with businessmen and insurance representatives to discuss the program. The motion was approved.

Charged for Conduct

Louis Jakich, 54, of 1406 Washington Ave., was arrested at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday on a charge of disorderly conduct. The complaint was signed by Sam Revak, Jakich was released on $25 cash bail pending a hearing.

MR. AND MRS. GARY W. SLATER, who were united in marriage in an evening ceremony at the Glenview Chapel Assembly of God Church. She is the former Miss Cheryl M. Howland, a daughter of Luther P. Howland of Granite City.

Miss Cheryl M. Howland, Gary W. Slater Are Wed

Miss Cheryl M. Howland, daughter of Luther P. Howland of Rural Route One, and Gary W. Slater, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Slater, 1800 Courtyard Blvd., were united in marriage on Feb. 28 at the Glenview Chapel Assembly of God, Maryville Road and Wilson Avenue. The evening ceremony was performed at six o'clock by the Rev. M. W. Wilson. For her wedding, the bride chose a formal length gown designed with a high Victorian collar and long full sleeves, edged with a self fabric and edged with delicate lace ruffles. A slightly controlled skirt flowed gently into a chapel train, featuring matching lace motifs applied at the hemline, and her shoulder length, bouffant veil was secured with a petal headpiece. She carried a cascade bouquet of white flowers festooned with white satin streamers. Miss Lorna McElroy, maid of honor, wore a pink and white chiffon over silk gown. Empire bodice was fashioned with pink insertion ribbon, edged in rows of ruffled white lace, and a pink sash encircled the waistline of the floor length skirt. A pink velvet bow held in place a pink rose tip veil and she held a bouquet of white carnations tipped in pink. The little flower girl, Shelly Christner, a cousin of the bride, was dressed in a pink dotted swiss frock and wore a pink veil on her hair. Eric Maxwell, the bride's cousin, was the ringbearer. The groom chose Kerry Howland, a brother of the bride, as best man, William E. Blackburn Jr., and Curtis L. Howland, both cousins of the bride, seated the guests. Guests were entertained at a reception held at the Long Lake Fire Hall immediately following the ceremony. The former Miss Howland is attending the Granite City School of Beauty Culture and the bridegroom is enrolled at Venice-Lincoln Technical Center. They will make their home in Granite City.

MR. AND MRS. ANDREW SABOL, former residents of Madison now living in Glen Carbon, who celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary during the weekend at a surprise reception held in the Croation Hall, Madison.

Golden Anniversary Of Mr., Mrs. Andrew Sabol

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Sabol of Glen Carbon, formerly of Madison, observed their 50th wedding anniversary by renewing their wedding vows at an 8 o'clock Mass at St. Mary Roman Catholic Church in Madison during the weekend. The service was followed by surprise reception given at the Croation Home in Madison. The couple was married Feb. 28, 1922 at the former St. Mary's Catholic Church. They have six children, 28 grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Their children are John Sabol of Glen Carbon, Mrs. Edward (Agnes) Peck of Wood River, Mrs. Richard (Irene) Marquardt of East St. Louis, Mrs. Robert (Helen) O'Guin and Mrs. Stanley (Dorothy) Myrda, both of Fairview Heights, and Mrs. George (Elsie) Flach of Granite City. More than 185 guests attended the reception, including out-of-town guests, Mrs. Sadie Marquardt and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Jack Marquardt, both of Chicago.

Poison Control Machine for Hospital

The St. Elizabeth Hospital Auxiliary has purchased a Poison Control machine, which speeds diagnosis and evaluates the amount of poison ingested by a child or adult, and will donate the equipment to the local hospital.

Details concerning the Poison Control equipment were discussed at a meeting of the auxiliary held Monday evening in the Wiseman Room at the hospital. The machine will be available for use at St. Elizabeth Hospital in the near future, members were advised.

Principal speakers at the monthly business session and program were Ted Eilerman, St. Elizabeth Hospital assistant administrator, and Dr. Bernard Leitman, radiologist and hospital staff member.

The administrative official discussed expenditures involved in constructing and equipping the new Doctor's Wing and outlined the hospital's financial obligations.

Passion Play Is Chapter HT Topic

Mrs. A. C. Stoeve presented a program based on the Passion Play given in Oberammergau, Germany, an event produced there every 10 years, at a meeting Monday evening of Chapter HT of the P.E.O. Sisterhood.

Narrating a series of slides taken at the world-renowned production last year, Mrs. Stoeve also showed scenes from the southern region of Germany.

Of special interest was the architecture prevalent in that area, including several castles and the elaborately landscaped grounds surrounding the ancient edifices.

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Paul Surbey, 2901 Namooki Road. She served dessert luncheon to 18 members prior to the business session.

Mrs. Surbey, chapter president, read a report of the past year. The paper is to be forwarded to the state P.E.O. organization.

The March 13 meeting will be with Mrs. L. H. Konzen. New officers will be elected at that time.

36 Golden Agers Discuss Benefits

The Golden Age Circle of Kirkpatrick Homes met Tuesday and discussed a letter received from U. S. Senator Charles Percy (R-Illinois) concerning information on social security and other benefits for senior citizens.

Lee McClew, president, gave the opening prayer and the pledge of allegiance. The meeting was held in the recreation hall at the housing project. There were 36 members in attendance.

Reports were submitted by Mrs. Nancy Harrell, secretary and Mrs. Peggy Gibbons, treasurer. Mrs. Ruby Corbett, corresponding secretary, announced get well cards had been mailed to several members.

After the business session, Mr. McClew read a poem, entitled "Food for Thought."

He also announced a program planned for March 23, will be presented by the Society for the Prevention and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America, Collinsville Chapter and the Rev. Wilbur Lear, pastor of St. Bartholomew Episcopal Church. The Senior Citizens group from Anchorage Homes also will be invited.

Those winning prizes at games were Henry Reimers, Mrs. Della Hagan, Mrs. Minnie King, Lee McClew and Mrs. Peggy Gibbons.

EDUCATOR FROM INDIA TO SPEAK AT GC CHURCH

Dr. Vykuntapathi Thota, a professor in the department of visual technology at SIU-SW, will be guest speaker at 7 p.m. Sunday at the Central Free Methodist Church, 22nd and State streets. The program is open to the public, the Rev. Eugene Stevenson, pastor, said.

A native of India, the SIU-SW educator will discuss the needs of his homeland, its customs and developing trends, illustrating his talk with colored slides.

Dr. Thota will be accompanied by his wife, who will wear the traditional dress of India.

A reception to follow the program is planned by the Central Church congregation, the Rev. Stevenson said.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD

New equipment also was the basis of Dr. Leitman's talk. The radiologist explained the use of the new cobalt machine and deep x-ray therapy in the treatment of cancer. Both methods of treatment are now available to patients at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The Mobile Meals program was reviewed and it was noted the auxiliary is now contributing funds each month to help defray the cost of the community service project. The program involves delivery of hot, balanced meals to the aged, the ill or the handicapped by volunteer workers.

Mrs. Margaret Lee, auxiliary president, was in charge of Monday's meeting. Serving as program co-chairmen were Mrs. Sylvia Brylak and Mrs. Dolly Gonshak.

A social hour with cake and coffee served to 43 members concluded the evening.

COUPLE NAMES FIRST CHILD CANDICE RENEE

Altman First Class and Mrs. Kevin M. Peoples are announcing the birth of their first child, a daughter, on Feb. 13 at the Burnham Hospital in Champaign, Ill.

The new arrival has been named Candice Renee. She weighed seven pounds, 10 ounces.

Mrs. Peoples will be remembered as the former Diana Alger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Alger, 36 Meadowlark Court. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jay Peoples of National City. The service-

BPW Officers to Attend National Meet

The executive board and general membership meeting of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club have been postponed until Wednesday, March 8, to permit leaders of the local chapter to attend the 7th National Legislative Conference in Washington, D.C. Mrs. Pauline Weir, Granite City BPW president and historian of the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs (IFBPWC), announced the change of meeting dates.

At next week's meeting, set back one week, club members will elect new officers for 1972-73, name voting delegates to the state convention, and approve the scholarship committee's candidate for the club's first National Federation education grant. All are important items of business, the president noted.

Those who will attend the national conference include Mrs. Weir, Mrs. Verna Lengyel, IFBPWC District 14 secretary, parliamentary and state development chairman; Mrs. Mary Haines, a past president and historian of the local chapter; and Mrs. Catherine Burton of Collinsville, IFBPWC recording secretary.

The legislative convention in Washington will start Wednesday and conclude Sunday.

MRS. LYNN HOSTESS TO MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Women's Missionary Society of the Central Free Methodist Church met for a pro-

World Day of Prayer service Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Vera Lynn, 2334 Edison Ave.

Mrs. Corinne Stevenson was in charge of the program and spoke on the topic of "Adding Love."

A luncheon was served at noon by the hostess to Messames Ruby Storum, Wilma Bowen, Ruth Asbeck, Viola Atkins, Edith Danna, Lorena, Maggie Milton and the Rev. Eugene Stevenson.

PLAIN CHURCH DIRECTORY
Ladies In Action of the Briarcliff Pentecostal Church made tentative plans to compile a church directory at a meeting Tuesday night held at the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Shelton were present to assist the group in coordinating information needed for the directory.

Mrs. Ann Hotson, president, presided at the meeting. Others attending were Mesdames Marge Glasgow, Opal Orrell, Dorothy Smith, Lillian Barton, Beulah Mills, Marian Warren, Elizabeth Travis, Dorothy Parker, Phyllis Allen, Marilyn Ra-

Mr. and Mrs. St. Clair Shuppert, 42 Moorland Drive, returned home Wednesday after visiting with their daughter Mrs. Clarence (Norma) McGovern and family, in Overland Park, Kan.

On Tuesday they celebrated the "11th" birthday of Mrs. McGovern. Mrs. Shuppert and her granddaughter, Terry Ann McGovern, observed their birthdays earlier in the month.

Miss Clifford "Butch" Stefanoff, 21, of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stefanoff, 145 Meadowlane Drive, Mitchell, celebrated either his 12th or 13th birthday at a party at the skating party and dinner, Saturday night.

Confusion concerning his birthday arises each year as he is born on Feb. 29, a date that has occurred only three times since his birth.

The skating party for about 50 of his friends was given at the Stardust Skating Rink. The event was also attended by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Barr, and Mrs. Doris Ross; a brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Stefanoff; and his cousins, Ed and Timmy; and the honoree's sisters, Jeannine and Rhonda Stefanoff.

After the skating hour, the party for relatives was served at the Stefanoff home. Guests included those named and named above, and also George Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Tarasovich, Mr. and Mrs. William Black Jr. and Mrs. William Dickson, and Mrs. Craig.

HONOR TARI HANFELDER
Tari Hanfelder was guest of honor at a birthday party on her eighth birthday. She is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hanfelder of 1815 1/2 N. Olive.

The party was held in the Hanfelder barn which was appropriately decorated. The party was decorated with records and names of the honoree's favorite recording stars, such as Presley, Elvis, Sherman and David Cassidy. Games were played and prizes were won by Nancy Siebert, of 1815 1/2 N. Olive, Kris Edling and Timmy Burns.

20 Local Music Students Win Top Ratings

Twenty first-place ratings were awarded soloists and ensembles from Granite City and Madison high schools who competed in the "State Music Contest," sponsored by the Illinois High School Association.

The contest was held during the weekend at Belleville-West High School in Belleville. Top ratings were earned by an equal number of youthful musicians from the two local school districts.

Madison students were under the direction of William F. Ledbetter, director of instrumental music and Mrs. Valerie Stevens, vocal music director. The Granite City High School contestants were directed by Louis E. Meek, instrumental music director and Joseph Owens, assistant band director.

Troop to Visit Children's Home

Girl Scout Troop 143 of Nameoki School will deliver Easter baskets filled with candy and gifts to the Jack and Jill Home, located at Beverly Farms in Godfrey, on March 22 as a community project.

Members of the troop practiced basket weaving at an earlier meeting. They are now planning games, a puppet show and refreshments they will provide at the Godfrey Home for retarded children.

Other projects the troop has

Cotter College Night March 13

A field representative of Cotter College in Nevada, Mo., will be present at the Signal Hill Methodist Church in Belleville at 1 p.m. Monday, March 13, to speak with those interested in the school. It was announced by Mrs. William Lierman at a meeting of Chapter KU of the P.E.O. Sisterhood Monday night.

The college, sponsored by the P.E.O. Sisterhood, is a fully accredited school for women. Mrs. Lierman said. She stressed the meeting will provide an opportunity for any high school student who may be interested in enrolling at the college to attend and receive additional information.

The chapter session was conducted in the home of Mrs. Wayne Carlisle, 3157 Davis Ave., with the president, Mrs. W. D. Burcky, presiding.

Twenty-one members responded to roll call. Plans were completed for a dinner party on March 17 at Charlie's Restaurant to which husbands will be invited.

Mrs. Roy Hulse presented a study on the P.E.O. constitution as the program.

Also attending were two guests, Mrs. Judy Dew and Mrs. Mary Thrane. The March 14 meeting will be with Mrs. Elmer Gruen, 2252 Woodlawn Avenue.

FAMILY ACTIVITY SUPPER

Members and prospective members of Parents Without Partners, Chapter 470 of Granite City, accompanied by their children, met Monday evening at George Lindsey's Restaurant on Nameoki Road for a family activity supper.

Plans also were discussed for attending "Junior Fun Day" at Camp Rainbow on April 8 with other troops in Neighborhood 5. Mrs. Marilyn Galbraith serves as Troop 143 leader. She will be assisted on the March trips by mothers committee.

Antique Show to Aid SIU-SW Library

Antique dealers from California, Colorado and Texas will participate in the second annual antique show sponsored by the Southern Illinois University Friends of the Library at Southwestern campus.

New dimensions have been added to this year's show, which will be held March 10-12 in the ballroom of the University Center at SIU-SW. Decorators from both sides of the river will be on hand to demonstrate how to decorate with and around antique furniture in combination with modern decor.

A St. Louis florist will demonstrate flower arrangements with antiques. A book dealer will offer a selection of books and maps.

SIU-SW Friends of the Library will limit their booth this year to books, prints and engravings. Anyone wishing to donate any of these items to the show should contact Mrs. Stephen Stinson, executive secretary of the Friends, at Lovejoy Library (618) 692-3938.

The show will be open March 10 from 7 until 10 p.m., Saturday hours will be from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. and Sunday hours, noon to 6 p.m.

During the three-day show, light foods will be available in the ballroom. Admission to the show is $1. Children under 13 will be admitted free when accompanied by an adult. Tickets are available from the Friends of the Library office at the University Center information desk.

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH HOWARDS. They were united in marriage at Suburban Baptist Church. She is the former Miss Linda Wilkins, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilkins Jr. of Granite City.

Miss Linda Wilkins Weds Joseph Howards

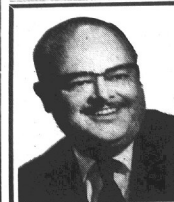

Suburban Baptist Church, 2500 St. Clair Ave., was the scene of the morning wedding of Miss Linda Rae Wilkins, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Wilkins Jr., 2904 Saratoga Ave., and Joseph A. Howards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Howards, 2221 Cardinal Ave.

The Rev. Wendell Garrison officiated at the double ring ceremony, performed at 10:30 a.m., Feb. 26.

The bride wore a white crepe dress designed with an Empire waistline, encircled with a yellow insertion ribbon, and a soft gathered skirt. The bodice was fashioned with a rolled collar, edged in matching yellow ribbon and delicate lace, and brief puff sleeves.

Her bouquet was an arrangement of white carnations and lily of the valley.

Downtown St. Louis Airport Stand Was Much Sounder Than the St. Louis Chamber Report

Federal officials have some new and significant food for thought regarding the public's attitude toward construction of a major airport to serve the bi-state St. Louis metropolitan area.

Downtown St. Louis, Inc., directors last week reaffirmed the organization's stand of two years ago favoring an Illinois location for a second regional airport; the first, Lambert, is situated in Missouri and cannot be expanded enough to meet the St. Louis region's air traffic needs.

A few politicians and businessmen have been trying to give the impression that St. Louis and especially St. Louis County residents are opposed to locating the new airport at Waterloo-Columbia, Ill. But new perspective was provided by the 17-to-3 Downtown St. Louis vote favoring Illinois, since three-fourths of the board members are residents of St. Louis County.

The thorough study culminating in overwhelming support for an Illinois airport contrasted sharply with that of the Chamber of Commerce of Metropolitan St. Louis.

Although its aviation committee had gone through the motions of listening to both sides of the issue, the St. Louis Chamber was guided primarily by voting among its general membership—after presenting the question in a way that left much to be desired—and without providing balanced, detailed background information to the members.

The refreshingly different procedure followed by Downtown St. Louis included long and exhaustive study by the entire board of directors, including five meetings in recent months and a direct review of the "pros and cons" by Administrator John H. Shaffer of the Federal Aviation Administration.

Judging by the geographic spread of its home and business addresses and the manner in which it made its evaluation, it seems apparent that Downtown St. Louis was able to give a far sounder and more representative opinion on the airport proposal than the shallow, slipshod action by the St. Louis Chamber.

Port Area, Adjacent Land Create Dynamic Outlook for Shipping, Manufacturing Here

New reports by the American Waterways Operators continue to verify the dynamic potential that is offered by the eight-mile-long Chain of Rocks Canal and the facilities and land along its eastern bank.

Providing a stable-level, flood-protected artery for Mississippi River shipping, the canal has vast ultra-modern locks which are regularly maintained and upgraded by the government. Its wide southern terminus affords excellent harbor facilities operated by the Bi-State Development Agency Public Wharf and Terminal and by the Tri-City Regional Port District.

Its northern terminus includes territory reserved for a future harbor to be developed by the Tri-City Port District. And the land to the east contains many thousands of acres of inflation-protected manufacturing sites, farflungly reserved for industrial park development by railroads and utilities.

The subject is brought to mind by an American Waterways Operators' report that another 68 plant facilities were attracted by waterside sites in the fourth quarter of 1971. Included in this total, production industries constructed, expanded or announced plans to construct 26 terminals, docks and wharves along commercially-navigable waterways for the handling of freight to and from barges and for exchanges by water carriers and other modes of transportation. Forty-one of the grand total of 68 reported investment expenditures aggregating $1,210,740,000.

These developments brought to 1,682 the number of new terminal facilities which have been constructed along the nation's 25,343 miles of waterways since 1952, an average of 84 for each of the past 20 years.

AWO President Braxton B. Carr said the fourth quarter statistics indicate solid and sustained interest on the part of management to take advantage of low-cost barge transportation—averaging three mills per ton-mile—for handling bulk-loading commodities.

No Substitute for Adequate U. S. Defense; Russia Seeking 'First Strike' Capability

Three principal opinions are presented each year by defense budget critics when Congress begins evaluating the budget, and 1972 has been no exception:

1. Delay providing new defenses until the Soviet Union makes clear what it will promise on arms limitation.
2. The U. S. and Russia both have enough arms to destroy the world several times over, so why buy any more?
3. Social programs should take the bulk of any new government revenues because of the great need in this category.

What needs to be kept in mind is that, regardless of what the Soviet promises, it is rapidly adding military strength—even faster than the Defense Department has estimated. Defense Secretary Melvin Laird now is convinced that existing Russian programs will result in matching U. S. nuclear strength across the board and exceeding it in some highly dangerous respects.

Admiral Thomas H. Moorer Jr., chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, adds that Russia will move ahead of America this summer in the total number of missiles and bombers with which it could launch a nuclear attack. As he points out, "The mere appearance of Soviet strategic superiority could have a debilitating effect on our foreign policy and negotiating posture."

The people to whom we have entrusted U. S. security are telling us that there is no cheap or easy way to assure our survival. Obviously, Russia does not subscribe to the notion that it should seek to eliminate its extra talk produce before it sees to its defense needs.

Russia not only could destroy the world today but is, by any objective evaluation, endangering to the ability to eliminate our missiles in the first salvo to preserve its own people and then dominate the world through brute strength. This effort is continuing, and an accelerating pace with an increasing proportion of its productive capacity devoted to the task rather than to social programs.

In view of this unfortunate but nevertheless factual situation, all three arguments against providing an adequate U. S. national defense seem unjustified.

Miami Beach Is Awaiting Democrats with Open Arms

By RON WELLS
Copy News Service

Miami Beach — Convention Center officials here are waiting with open arms for the Democratic National Convention with an air of confidence. It will open July 10.

Full-scale preparations are scheduled to begin this month, trailing by several months the start of the convention preparations by the Republican Party in San Diego.

"We learned a great deal from putting on the Republican convention in 1968," says Norman Litz, manager of the huge convention complex.

"We don't anticipate any problems in getting ready for the Democrats."

But getting ready for the Democrats by convention day, July 10, will be no easy task.

It will cost $500,000—half the total convention commitment—to ready the two huge convention halls.

"This figure covers only the costs for construction of the podium and seating, and for internal alterations," said Litz in an interview.

"If our work goes according to schedule, the convention participants won't even know that work is going on."

Litz' prime concern is readying the cavernous North Hall, where all the general sessions

Litz estimated that it will take his crews four to six weeks to set up for the convention.

"We'll employ 150 people setting up and maintaining the convention halls before and during the convention and 100 casual workers cleaning up after every session," he said.

Litz doesn't expect the cleanup operation to be nearly as gargantuan as it was for the Republicans in 1968, due to the Democratic Party's new rule banning "spontaneous demonstrations."

Following the '68 nominating session our crews loaded four semitrucks with signs and posters left after the demonstration," he said.

In the busy months ahead, the giant convention complex will be the widest source of just the sounds of workmen.

"We're booked pretty solid right up to the Democratic convention," said Litz.

"We've scheduled the various conventions in parts of the buildings where the construction work will be in progress."

"If our work goes according to schedule, the convention participants won't even know that work is going on."

Litz' prime concern is readying the cavernous North Hall, where all the general sessions

National-Steel Merger Offers Major Benefits to Users of Steel

Partial text of talk by H. M. Love, president of Granite City Steel Co., a subsidiary of National Steel Corp., to the Association of Iron and Steel Engineers district group.

I have a few general comments that I believe I have been assigned. "National Steel comes to the area."

"National products have been coming to this area all along, of course. However, it was only last year that we arrived in the area as a corporate resident through our merger with Granite City Steel, one of the oldest and best-known industrial names in the entire St. Louis area."

National Steel now has a large investment here and an equally large responsibility to this area.

Our investment, Granite City Steel, is the only local producer of flat rolled steel products and the only steel plant here whose operations are integrated all the way back to the mine.

Our responsibility is to make the merger work so as to benefit the area not only our own stockholders and customers but also the suppliers and vendors we have with us in Granite City and the men and women who depend on our plant for their jobs.

There are more than 5,000 employees at Granite City Steel, the largest local manufacturing company in Madison County as well as the county's largest single taxpayer... although I am not sure that last has a distinction to brag about.

There is always speculation about what might happen when an outsider moves in. Let me tell you what we expect will happen.

It is fair to say that the presence of National Steel in this area offers certain clear benefits to the users of flat rolled steel.

The St. Louis area as a whole is considered an unusually diversified manufacturing center. As such, it certainly needs a wide, possible source of local supply for its flat rolled steel requirements.

Granite City Steel's products capabilities and customer obligations are now backed up by the resources of a much larger company with steel mills in other locations.

From a practical point of view, what this can mean is the ability to draw on production from another National mill if something goes wrong with a key production operation at one of our plants.

The presence of National Steel should also be beneficial over the long run in maintaining a modern, fully competitive plant at Granite City.

As engineers, you can appreciate both the need to take advantage of new technology and the fact there is nothing quite as costly as modernization and expansion in the flat rolled steel business.

When its size while it was an independent company is taken into consideration, you have to realize that Granite City Steel did a truly remarkable job building the modern plant and facilities it has today.

Granite City Steel was far and away the smallest flat rolled producer in the United States when the transition to continuous rolling took place in the 1930s.

It was also the smallest of the tremendous new hot strip mills which came on stream in the 1960s.

However, the cost of steel plant expansion has kept on rising and the merged corporation of which Granite City is now a part has much larger resources to meet future demands for expansion.

National Steel can and will invest in its Granite City subsidiary as opportunities arise.

State Status—Howlett Favors License Revision

By RAY SERATI
Copy News Service

Springfield—Illinois Auditor of Public Accounts Michael J. Howlett continues to press for legislation which he says are designated for "efficiency and economy in government" and at the same time says the improvement of services would get the most out of the taxpayers' money.

Howlett, of Chicago, currently serving his third consecutive auditor term, is the Democratic party's likely nominee for Illinois secretary of state.

The auditor in his program for election to the secretary of state office has called for the making of a thorough study to see "if we can't save the people of Illinois some money by having two-year license plates instead of one."

"There was a problem we have to work out in that area is how do you get the revenue in for two years?" Howlett also has suggested contacting driver license officials in California to determine costs and methods to strengthen the Illinois driver license law by requiring a photograph of each driver on his license application.

He points out that this photograph then would become a permanent part of the individual's driver license file for the state.

"Because of such a requirement in California," Howlett says, "enforcement agencies have identified and are closer to apprehending the individual who has terrified the nation."

Howlett also is pointing out that the Illinois driver license "is really more than an instrument which you use to drive an automobile; it has become our source of identification."

It is suggesting that the General Assembly consider having a driver identification card for the blind, for the aged and for those people who really have no means of identification.

Howlett continues to advocate continued purchasing for all state government. A record of state government's increase in the price of remodeling the State Capitol Building through the awarding of potential awards on state contracts.

Since his election in 1969, Howlett has continually pushed for laws requiring periodic audits of county financial operations as well as special taxing districts.

Once the primary election, March 21, is over, Howlett is expected to wage a spirited campaign for the secretary of state's office.

He is running unopposed for the post on the Democratic ticket; also unopposed in the primary is the current Republican assistant secretary of state, Edmund J. Kucharski of Chicago.

especially the TV networks, who really would have saved some money," he said.

South Hall of the convention complex, which will serve as press headquarters, was completed in 1968 and covers 108,000 square feet.

The North Hall was constructed for the 1968 Republican convention and will hold 17,000 persons.

According to Litz, an additional $10 million worth of future expansion is planned for the center, which will add meeting rooms to seat from 350 to 3,000 persons, and a restaurant, reverse the entrances from the east side of the building to the west and create 235,000 additional square feet of floor space.

'Reluctant' San Diego Now Going in High Gear for 1972 GOP Convention

By FRANK MACONBER
Copy News Service

San Diego — A city at first reluctant about playing host to the Republican National Convention now is moving in high gear toward its opening day, Aug. 21.

GOP convention arrangement committee officials, here, check the tempo of progress six months before the convention. San Diego, that's understandable. There's a substantial feeling of not wanting to grow any bigger.

"But after it, no longer was a question of whether the convention is coming, people decided it was the best convention the Republicans ever had."

Yet, nothing is perfect, and there are a few set-backs bethering convention officials, none of them insurmountable.

The area's troublesome one is housing and police security.

Herman says there are only 12,500 rooms available for delegates, alternates, convention officials and staff members, news media and guests.

The GOP housing committee had asked for at least 15,000.

"I would guess probably we're going to wind up with 12,000 rooms or a little in excess," says Fuller. "I believe that number will be adequate."

"In Miami Beach (scene of the 1968 GOP convention), they needed something less than 12,000 hotel rooms."

When you consider that our convention arena is going to have 3,000 to 4,000 less seats than the Miami Beach convention hall, I think we have more than an adequate number of rooms available."

More important than the rooming problem, in Fuller's view, is the fact that nearly 12,000 of the rooms are within 12 minutes of the convention hall.

"That's for convention security," observes.

Robert N. Gadbois, boss of the San Diego Convention and Visitors' Bureau, thinks he has the venue now in moving in high gear toward its opening day, Aug. 21.

"The initial shock of being selected as a national political convention city provoked a great deal of emotionism here," he explains.

"In a conservative community like San Diego, that's understandable. There's a substantial feeling of not wanting to grow any bigger."

Dear Nana--Senior Citizen Seeks Ways To Increase Income by Working at Home

By JACKIE STEFANISH
Copley News Service

Dear Nana:
I hope you can be of some service and perhaps furnish me with information concerning ways to make money at home.

My husband is on total disability since the age of 48, and he's 52 years old now. What he receives from Social Security and a pension from his employment is a far cry from what anyone could call a decent income.

He has asthma, emphysema, a heart condition and arthritis of the spine and hips. I can't hold a steady job because I can't find anyone to be with him because they charge so much.

Then on top of that they deduct $17.48 out of his pension check every month for hospitalization which pays $20 per day for a hospital room. But this doesn't include any doctor bills unless he has surgery.

The doctor suggests that he be in a warm climate, but can anyone tell me how you can do everything on a small income per month?

If I could find some work I could do at home it would certainly solve our money problems for us.

Thanking you kindly.

Dear Low-Income:
As I don't know your full capabilities it's difficult for me to suggest some homework that might help with your financial problems.

However, I do know there are many women in your circumstances who do ironing, sewing, advertising addresses, child care and home production in their homes to supplement their incomes.

And a dear friend of mine whose husband has such a severe heart condition he was an invalid, started a rest home for the elderly in her home to support herself and her husband. Through the years this was their only income and they had a very comfortable living.

I don't know what your home is like but you might consider this idea as well as the other suggestions above. You have to be at home, so caring for others who desperately need a home might be a solution that will help your financial difficulties.

Dear Nana:
Just finished reading your article from O. B. P. about Scorpius being so much alike. It intrigued me very much and I decided to add what I learned years ago.

I am a Sagittarius and astrologists or zodiac sign readers have all proclaimed that Sagittarians are very much incompatible in friendship and marriage. Also, that the Sagittarius' best zodiac sign in marriage is Scorpius.

Also, contrary to the zodiac signs and horoscopes, I'm married to a Taurus (April 30th) and this couldn't be a better marriage. It was "made in heaven," I would say.

Oh, and Nana, may I thank you for your lovely Christmas card. It sure cheered me up. Remember, I'm the paraplegic who wrote you about Ann Adams in Florida and her (and my) art work?

Many thanks again and God bless and keep you always.

Dear V. C.:
Thank you for your information and comparison of the zodiac signs.

And although I'm certainly not an authority on this subject I think there are always exceptions even in the zodiac signs.

My mother is a Sagittarius and by far the best mother and friend a daughter ever had. Yet we are so much alike it's hard to realize that we're under different signs.

However, we're both borderline Scorpius (Nov. 30th) and Sagittarius (Dec. 17th) so that's probably why there's such a similarity. And let me tell you this is one daughter who's very proud to be like her mother.

Yes, Virginia, I remember you well. What have you done with your artistic talent since we last corresponded?

I'm always interested in hearing about my readers. And some of my best items for my column have come in further correspondence with them.

Regardless of what some may say, I still think many are interested in people and care about them.

Dear Nana:
I enjoy your articles in our paper very much. My wife and I both think the help you're giving the elderly is wonderful.

On Nov. 12 I was forced to retire due to an arbitrary age limit at our shop. I'm 65 but unable to actually retire so I must find ways to earn an income.

I'd be most grateful if you could send me the craft plans you have mentioned. My wife and I both enjoy craft work of many kinds.

Any ideas or hints on ways to make some extra badly needed money will be received with gratitude.

Dear L. J. A.:
I do hope that you and your wife find many hours of pleasure and perhaps some profit value in the hobby projects I've sent to you.

And I've also enclosed some suggestions for extra income that other retirees have informed me of.

Questions on problems of the elderly may be sent to Copley News Service, P.O. Box 196, San Diego, Calif. 92112.

Cynthia Kahn Becomes Mrs. Thomas W. Riggins

St. Margaret Mary Roman Catholic Church was the scene of the wedding on Feb. 25 of Miss Cynthia Kahn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kahn, 2800 Sunset Drive, and Thomas W. Riggins, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Riggins, reside in Dover, Tenn. The 7:30 p.m. ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert Becker.

Given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Kahn selected an ivory sate gown fashioned with an open square neckline on the Empire bodice of imported Venise lace. Long, full sleeves were cuffed with fragile lace and a matching band of lace encircled the upper sleeve. The semi-full skirt was floor length.

A total look mantilla veil bordered in Venise lace that fell into a full sweep was secured with a profile of lace embellished with crystals and pearls.

Her colonial bouquet was an arrangement of white roses and baby breath.

The attendants, Miss Brenda Persinger, a cousin of the bride, Miss Donna Kahn and Miss Linda Kahn, both sisters of the bride, Miss Debbie Warren and Miss Vicki Valencia, were gowned alike in brown velvet formal length dresses. Their frocks were designed with a high neckline and a front bodice bib fashioned of ivory lace. Lace was repeated on the cuffs of the long full sleeves.

Each girl carried a colonial bouquet of yellow pom poms and yellow and white daisy pom poms encircled with brown velvet ribbons.

Dennis Portell, flower girl wore a dress identical to those of the attendants and she carried a basket of red rose petals. Christopher Kahn, a brother of the bride, served as ringbearer. The groomsmen included Dunning Cheatan, Richard Riggins, the groom's brother and Ray and Vic Kahn, both cousins of the bride.

A reception was given at the Croation Hall in Madison following the ceremony. After a wedding trip the couple will make their home in Dover, Tenn.

The bride is a graduate of Granite City High School. Her husband is attending Austin Peay State University.

MARRIED AT ST. MARGARET MARY. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Riggins, whose wedding took place at St. Margaret Mary Church. The bride is the former Cynthia Kahn, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kahn, 2800 Sunset Drive.

Shower Honors Cathy Schmidt

Miss Cathy Schmidt, a spring bride-to-be, was honored at a pre-wedding shower given this week in the 300 Room of Tri Mor Bowl. The wedding colors of ivory and violet, with pink accents, decorated the room.

Hostesses for the afternoon affair were Misses Linda Smith, Donna Lucy, Janet Wilson and Linda Schmidt, who will serve as bridesmaids.

The gift table centerpiece was made in the shape of a large ring created in pink and white net and centered with miniature roses and lily of the valley. White wedding bells were suspended above the table.

Individual favors were rice packets filled with pastel colored rice and small bud vases holding a single rose and greenery.

Those winning prizes at games were Miss Josephine Koch, Miss Barbara Fecho and Mesdames Pat Thomas, Florence Toth, Dorothy Kinney, Rose Janek, Rhoda Wilson, Minnie Yeager and Carol Reagan.

Other guests attending were Misses Carol Kinney, Donna Schrecher, Peg Bischoff, Mesdames Zita Bequette, Mae Coleman, Mary Ropac, Ida Cassel, Phyllis Wilde, Pat Miller, Pat Smith.

Mesdames John Bradway, Lillian Vaughn, Freda Meyling, Gerry Smalley, Karen Neukam, Elsa Little, Anna Mae Wetton, Lorraine Bischoff, Mildred Lynch, Rosemary Holtgrave, Minnie King, Leona Johnessee, Muriel Schreiber, Isobel Lucy, Vivian Hamlin, Wayne McIlvoy and Rose Marie Schmidt.

Miss Schmidt, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schmidt, 2529 Grand Ave., will become the bride of RD-3 Stuart Wilson, U. S. Navy, on April 8 at the Old Cathedral in St. Louis. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Wilson, 1306 Twenty-Seventh St.

Assisting the hostesses were relatives of the bride-elect, Miss Anne Dziencial, Mrs. Louise Serfas, Mrs. Sandra Serfas and Mrs. Jean Dziencial.

Couple Receives Promotion at San Diego

Promotions in the U. S. Marine Corps are not easily attained. But, neither is it a common occurrence to see a husband and wife in the same branch of the military remain in service together following their marriage.

Both situations apply to a Granite City servicewoman and her husband, a native of Watsonville, Calif., who received promotions at the same time at the U. S. Marine Corps Base at San Diego, Calif.

Marine Corporal Debra Maltret and her husband Marine Sergeant J. H. "Rick" Maltret, were promoted to their present ranks this month at the California base.

Mrs. Maltret is the former Debra Osburn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Osburn, 44 Holiday Park. Sgt. Maltret's parents reside in the Watsonville, Calif. area.

The couple was married Oct. 13 at St. John Lutheran Church on St. Clair Avenue. Both are stationed at the San Diego base and live nearby.

Sgt. Maltret concluded a tour in Vietnam last fall. His wife, who attended local schools, entered the U. S. Marine Corps 18 months ago. Both enjoy life in the Corps. Cpl. Maltret's parents reported.

Travelers Topic Is Norwegian-Tour

Mr. and Mrs. Al Stoeve described a 12-day cruise to North Cape and Spitzbergen the local couple had made on board a Norwegian steamer at a meeting of Travelers Abroad held Monday night at Prather Junior High School.

They reviewed the journey made along the North European coast with stops at several ports including Hammerfest and Tromso. Here, Mr. Stoeve noted, are many industries which basically involve fishing and coal mining. Huge racks for drying fish could be seen along the waterways.

The travelers left the ship at Lapsland and toured the countryside that was just 10 degrees from the north pole, and they learned the only vegetation is called lichen.

The Stoeves concluded their talk with a description of the beauty of the midnight sun which was evident in June, the time of their visit.

Harry Johnson, president of the club, opened the meeting and introduced the guest speakers. There were about 40 members and guests attending.

American Choral Music Concert Monday

A concert of American choral music will be presented at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus at 8:15 p.m. Monday in the Communications Building theater. The program will be conducted by Leonard Van Camp, director of choral activities at SIU-SW. Admission is free.

Choral groups include the University Chorus, directed by William Claudon; and the Community Choral Society and Concert Chorus, directed by Van Camp.

Serving as piano accompanists for several numbers will be Harlan Rock, Belleville, and Bonita Smith, Collinsville. When the Community Choral Society sings "Song of the Open Road," by Norman Delio Jolo, Bruce Hoffman, Edwardsville, will play trumpet and Miss Smith will be at the piano.

Featured in a chamber ensemble rendition of "Come All Ye Fair and Tender Ladies," an American folk song arranged by Salli Terri, will be Carol Lockhart, Troy, alto soloist; Roger Hill, Edwardsville, alto recorder; and Bill Ogden, Edwardsville, guitar.

The final number on the program, "Set Down Servant," a Negro spiritual arranged by Robert Shaw, will be sung and danced and will have an instrumental accompaniment. Choreography is by Al Wittz III, a member of the Fine Arts Division faculty. The instrumental accompaniment arrangement is by Donald Balla, Alton.

Instrumentalists for this number are Christy Nurre, St. Louis, piano; Ed Baumann, Edwardsville, bass; Darrell (Butch) Moore, Edwardsville, guitar; Balla, violin; and Becky Lewis, Edwardsville, flute.

KIWANIS INITIATES who became new members of the Granite City Kiwanis Club in ceremonies held at a dinner meeting Monday night. Left to right, Melvin Gillie, Kiwanis Past Lieutenant Governor who was installing officer; Jay C. Bumpers, Robert, Anderson, Les Caton and Joseph Palovechik, new members, and Darrell Weible, club president. Walter Rozycki, also a new member, was not present for the photograph.

5 New Members Inducted Into GC Kiwanis Club

Melvin Gillie, Kiwanis Past Lieutenant Governor, conducted initiation ceremonies for five new candidates for membership in the Granite City Kiwanis Club at a dinner meeting Monday night at Charlie's Restaurant.

New members are Jay C. Bumpers, Robert Anderson, Les Caton, Joseph Palovechik and Darrell Weible, president, conducted the business meeting and, with Marvin Barnes, treasurer, presented a check for $300 to Jerry Brown, assistant principal of Central Junior High School, for the purchase of a film on drugs.

Philip Theis, chairman of the Kiwanis Drug Alert program, explained the film was made by the Firecell Films, Inc., and will be shown in Granite City Schools and to organizations interested in participating in drug awareness. Anyone interested in viewing the film may contact Brown or any member of the Kiwanis Club.

The president announced that uniforms and other equipment have been purchased to sponsor a boys baseball team this year. The team will include boys in the 9 to 11-year-old bracket and the club will continue to sponsor them until they reach 17 and are no longer eligible to play in the boys league.

Inter-club guests from the Belle-Claire Kiwanis Club of Belleville attended the meeting. They included Frank Gregory, president; Terry Schaefer, inter club chairman, and Mal Frischkorn, vice-president.

Mike Toundas, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Donna Hartwick of the Pres-Record news staff, who was guest speaker.

In conjunction with the Kiwanis International observance of newspaper week, Mrs. Hartwick traced the history of newspapers from their early beginning in the 7th century in China to the present day.

At the conclusion of the program, Mr. Toundas presented an engraved plaque to Mrs. Hartwick, who accepted it on behalf of the Pres-Record for their coverage of community news. Mr. Weible also extended a certificate of appreciation to the guest speaker.

NEWSPAPER AWARD. An engraved plaque was awarded to the Pres-Record by the Granite City Kiwanis Club for coverage of area news. The award was made in conjunction with the Kiwanis International observance of newspaper week. Left to right Darrell Weible, club president; Mrs. Donna Hartwick, accepting the award on behalf of the Pres-Record, and Michael Toundas, who made the presentation.

church with W. W. Langford, men's director, serving as moderator of the business session.

Planning for the Easter Sunrise service was begun. The service is set for 7 a.m. and the special speaker will be the Rev. Billy Young of Venice. Breakfast will be served at 8 a.m.

The men also made plans for painting the church Fellowship Hall.

Clinton Howard, prayer chairman, reported that 15 men have enrolled for a "prayer chain," and those with prayer requests may call Howard at 931-2198.

Pastor Vernon Covington announced that Royal Ambassador counselors will meet Sunday at 6 p.m. for a training program. The next Baptist Men's meeting will be March 14 at the church.

Regional Report—Rapid Transit Could Increase Jobs, Reduce Congestion

(Illinois Metro East Industrial Development Corporation)

A study, released this week by the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, predicts 25,000 new jobs in the Illinois Metropolitan Area if a rapid transit system is constructed in the St. Louis region.

Other benefits in Illinois would include an estimated $70 million increase in property value, and redevelopment of 267 acres from residential to commercial use.

For commuters, there would be reduced travel time; reduced congestion and demand for employment centers; and better air quality for metropolitan residents.

The study also involved a public opinion poll of local interviews toward rapid transit. Interviews with residents and community leaders of the metropolitan area, more than 675, thought rapid transit would be a wise investment.

In another regional news item, the directors of Downtown St. Louis, Inc., reaffirmed their stand of two years ago favoring an Illinois site for a second major airport.

The immediate improvement of Lambert Field "to develop its potential for its continuing use" also was endorsed.

The board statement, citing remarks of FAA Administrator John H. Shaffer concerning rapid transit links with both airports and the development of a center city terminal to serve the system, stated that the terminal for the terminal is in downtown St. Louis.

In related news, as part of a campaign to lead off construction of the new airport in Illinois, the Missouri Senate Appropriation Committee approved a $2 million emergency appropriation for land acquisition by the Missouri-St. Louis Airport Authority. More than $1 million was cut from welfare and recreation projects to allow for the airport funding.

Miller Laboratories, Inc., announced plans to discontinue operations at its Granite City, Mo., and Millville facilities March 31. The plant closing will cost 470 jobs and about $535,000 in monthly payroll.

Corn Sweeteners, Inc., a Cedar Rapids, Ia., firm, will assume Miles' supply contracts extending beyond March 31 and will conduct an engineering and economic study of the feasibility of its operating the plant in the future.

Edwards, Inc., a four-generation Belleville retail-wholesale food operation, has received approval from the U. S. Department of Agriculture to operate its new slaughterhouse as a federally inspected plant. The new facility is located at Turkey Hill, southeast of Belleville.

The transition from a state-inspected to a federal-approved meat plant represents a $175,000 investment and provides an opportunity for further business expansion for the company.

In news of sewer system improvements and expansion, the Edwardsville City Council has authorized Mayor William G. Straube to enter contracts for final engineering for construction of a $2 million sewerage treatment and interceptor sewers costing an estimated $883,000 and storm sewer work costing an estimated $250,000.

In Belleville, the City Council approved sale of $400,000 in sewer revenue bonds to finance sewer improvements now under way. It also adopted a resolution approving a future sale of $4 million in revenue bonds to finance a program to provide sanitary sewer service to all parts of Belleville and to upgrade sewerage treatment plants.

As a result of the nearly-completed project to install a lift station and to expand sewer lines, about 120 families north of U. S. 50 in Fairview Heights have been notified they may contract for tap-ins to the Caseyville Township sewer system.

In general area news, Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. expects to spend more than $1.5 million for construction in the East St. Louis area this year. The fund drive for a proposed central Madison County hospital is being extended.

Southern Illinois University-Southwestern will keep its engineering program but the Illinois Board of Higher Education will limit any growth of the programs for the next few years. Bond Industries, Inc., of New York has acquired the business of Belco Corp., which operates a chain of 20 discount stores, including stores in Fairview Heights and Alton.

Boys Throw Firebombs At Blair School

In Auto Accident

A group of youths threw firebombs on an evening and in the playground of Blair School in Madison, Fred Riddle, Madison superintendent of schools, told police Monday.

Riddle reported that a custodian, Ben Honorable, saw several boys walking in the alley by the school carrying bottles filled with liquid. The boys ignited the bottles and threw them at the school, one falling on an awning, he said.

Honorable reportedly knocked the burning bottle from the awning. It burned a spot on the awning, Riddle reported.

Youth Arrested

Gary Reeves, 18, of 2330 Lee Ave., was arrested at 3:15 p.m. Monday on a charge of battery on a complaint signed by Jessie Holts, 203 Derby Ave., who said he was struck in the face during an argument.

Asian Studies Director:

Nixon China Talks Mark End to Asian Cold War

Dr. Gene Hsiao, director of SIU-SW Asian Studies who closely watched President Nixon's journey to mainland China, said the meetings between Nixon and Chinese officials were an "epoch-making event" that terminated the Cold War.

Hsiao, who holds degrees in political science and law from the University of California at Berkeley and degrees in journalism and law from major

Chinese universities in Shanghai, has been discussing the implications of President Nixon's journey with other East Asian specialists throughout the area and the world.

Based on those discussions, Hsiao reports that Nixon and the joint commission issued by President Nixon and Chinese Premier Chou En-lai, they have broken the ice and terminated the 25-year-old cold war.

"A new relationship between the two countries has begun, and the prospects for a world peace are indeed immeasurably increased by the two governments' promise not to seek hegemony in the Asia-Pacific region and to oppose any collusion among major powers."

"Most encouraging of all, the two governments promised to settle international disputes on the basis of the Five Principles of Peaceful Coexistence without resorting to the use of threat or force."

Prestige Increased

"Peking's prestige and international status have been immensely increased as a result of the President's visit, while Mr. Nixon has also achieved his basic goal of opening a dialogue and establishing new relations with the Chinese mainland."

"But if the United States and the People's Republic of China are both winners of this dramatic diplomatic game, which is certainly unprecedented in the modern history of international relations, the loser is likely to be Taiwan and its 14 million people."

In realistic terms, this outcome may be inevitable because in the final analysis the essence of international politics is power, not morality. At the same time, I believe that the Chinese people on Taiwan are entirely capable of determining their own future.

"Moreover, the Nixon-Chou communique is neither a treaty nor an intergovernmental agreement in the legal sense of the word. It is a document with two separate statements and therefore not necessarily binding upon the parties."

Endorsement Denied

By Courthouse Workers

Full endorsement of Blair Watson, Democratic candidate for nomination for Madison County recorder of deeds by American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees Local 700 was disclaimed by courthouse employees this week.

Some employees complained that one unit of the local, which holds meetings during the day, had not extended an endorsement to Watson, a former Tyre lumber operator.

Announcement of the endorsement came following a meeting of another unit of the local which holds sessions at night.

Attempted Burglary

A boy, about 12, was seen attempting to pry the outside basement door at the home of Bobby Bouich, 2307 E. 23rd St., it was reported at 7:30 p.m. Monday. The boy ran down the alley when he was spotted.

John Quincy Adams Was Sophisticated Teenager

Editor's Note: John Quincy Adams, 1767-1848, was president of the United States and so was his father, John Adams. He was also an ardent crusader against slavery. This is another in a series on what famous people were like in their teens.

By BETT ANDERSON
Copy News Service

John Quincy Adams and America grew up at the same time. Johnny was a cultured teenager long before he was an educated one. He had barely learned the three R's when his father took him out of school for a European trip. There he learned French, fencing, music and dancing. This was pretty heady stuff for a youngster. Nevertheless, he was glad to get back to his home in Massachusetts. He loved New England and he wanted to prepare for Harvard.

Johnny had hardly blown out the 13 candles on his birthday cake when his father took him back to Paris. Then they went to Amsterdam where Mr. Adams served as minister to The Netherlands. Johnny learned to converse in Dutch. He was soon speaking several foreign languages fluently. He was even taken to the court of the czars where he acted as interpreter for an American representative to Russia.

By the time he was 16, John

Quincy was a sophisticated but not dandified teenager. In the capitals of Europe, he had learned protocol. He moved in elegant circles. He could intelligently discuss events with diplomats. But he never learned to be topish. He was too much of a square for that.

American independence was now recognized. John became homesick. But he agreed to stay in Paris and act as his father's secretary. What a boy! He could call such distinguished men as Benjamin Franklin and Thomas Jefferson his friends.

Neither young John Quincy Adams nor his father, John Adams, had any idea that all this diplomatic experience would one day be important to them. One day each, in turn, would become president of the United States.

John Quincy did not neglect dates and dancing. He was handsome, worldly and attractive.

He must have had a premonition that his future was bound up in the affairs of America. For one cold January day in Paris in 1785, when he was 18, he began his famous diary. Apparently he wanted to leave a record of the time when this country was a teenager. And he did. For 63 years this dedicated patriot never missed a single day of writing his observations. His diary is fascinating Americana.

New Speakers Bureau Arranges 22 Programs

After a month of operation, the speaker's bureau of Southern Illinois University-Southwestern has coordinated 22 talks by staff members to area community groups. Seventeen other appearances have been arranged.

More than 100 faculty and staff members have volunteered to speak to community groups on a variety of educational topics and subjects of group interest.

Churches, societies, high schools and fraternal organizations have arranged for speakers through the University Information Center, directed by Miss Annette Mulvany.

Requests for speakers are made through Miss Mulvany's office, which in turn puts the speaker and the requesting group in contact. Honorariums are usually $25. The center, though "this is left to the discretion of the group and the speaker and the nature of the program provided," Miss Mulvany said.

Speakers are available to talk on such topics as the American Indian, communism, crime and delinquency, dentistry, ecology, economics, education, women's liberation, music, the sciences, and international, national and local politics.

Arrangements can be made by writing the University Information Center, Box 15-A, Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville, Illinois 62025 or by phoning (618) 692-2739.

English Conference Planned for Saturday

"Everything you've always wanted to say about English" is the title of a conference scheduled for Saturday at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern. The purpose of the conference is to "give students and teachers an opportunity to discuss pertinent aspects of learning and teaching the English language," conference chairman William T. Weir of the English language and literature department said. The conference is a joint venture of the Humanities and Education divisions and the Marquette and Kaskaskia divisions of the Illinois Association of Teachers of English.

It is open to all interested in attitudes toward learning on the part of students and teaching on the part of teachers. Weir said. A registration fee of $2.50 will allow a teacher to bring one student free. Registration for a non-sponsored student is 75 cents. Students are encouraged to participate. Registration will begin at 8:15 p.m. in Meridian Hall of the University Center.

Retiree, 71, Enrolls As Freshman at SIU-SW

Anyone who has ever complained it is too late to get an education should try convincing 71-year-old George Gregory, a spring quarter freshman at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern.

"It's never too late," said the retired railroad agent. "I know a 95-year-old cabinet maker, and he's a damned good one."

Gregory has completed registration for classes at SIU-SW, and unlike many freshmen, knows exactly what he wants to study. He is willing to do whatever is necessary to complete that goal, according to Norbert Schmidt, general studies adviser.

According to assistant registrar D. W. Wilson, Gregory is the oldest entering freshman ever to attend SIU.

"I want to study anthropology," Gregory said, "because I have always been interested in that field. I have visited a lot of archeological sites and read quite a few books on the subject," he said.

Gregory, who has lived in Litchfield for 21 years, traveled extensively during 35 years with the Wabash and the Norfolk and Western railroads. He believes his traveling should provide some interesting background in the field of anthropology.

Gregory's wife died shortly before he retired. "I have a lot of time on my hands, so I decided to go to school," he said. Since his daughter received her master's degree from SIU-SW, he was acquainted with the campus.

"If I get a degree, I would like to do some digging in some ruins somewhere," Gregory said.

Work has never bothered Gregory. He started with the railroad at the age of 15. Gregory plans to commute from Litchfield two days a week for anthropology and psychology courses. Since he graduated from high school in 1918, his advisor felt he should get used to school again by enrolling for only two courses.

After going through the registration process, Gregory commented that registration was like a "parchesi game." He said, "you move up a couple of lines and then somebody shows you back a line or two." Showing the wisdom of age, Gregory said, "Oh well, I'll live through it."

Completed contest entry blanks must be mailed to

Recycling Contest Set For Boy, Girl Scouts

Local Boy Scout and Girl Scout units were invited today by Owens-Illinois Inc. to compete in the company's second annual nationwide anti-litter, beautification and recycling contest.

All area scouts are eligible to compete, including Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers, and Girl Scouts Brownies, Juniors, Cadets and Seniors.

Owens-Illinois' program last year received one of six distinguished service citations presented to recognize outstanding community efforts throughout the United States in the business-industry category by Keep America Beautiful Inc.

The 1972 competition is open to all scouting groups within the geographical boundaries of 106 Owens-Illinois locations and is designed to encourage and promote scouting efforts to keep America beautiful.

Two local scout units will be named as winners in each community and will become eligible for national awards totaling more than $7,000. National winners in each of the seven scout classifications will receive $250 each—one of the seven becoming the Grand National Winner. The troop capturing the national prize will receive an additional $250 in cash.

Scout troops in this area wishing to participate should contact their Scout Council or local Owens-Illinois plant for an entry form, or write Owens-Illinois, Inc., 1972 Environmental Awards Program, P. O. Box 1035, Toledo, Ohio 43651.

Completed contest entry blanks must be mailed to

Womens-Illinois Corporate Headquarters in Toledo, Ohio by March 15

Entries will be based on anti-litter or related activities conducted by participating scout units from April 3 through June 15 of this year.

Nationally, Scouting's Keep America Beautiful Day is designated for April 29, and Scout Clean-Up activities on that day will be eligible for inclusion within the contest entries.

Local scout units will be asked to submit a report of their activities by June 15. Contest entries will be judged on the basis of significance, effectiveness, group effort and thoroughness.

Last year, Owens-Illinois plants offered incentive awards for the best anti-litter program conducted by the Boy Scouts in support of Project SOAR (Save Our American Resources). Boy Scout Troop #48 of Lynchburg, Virginia was the grand national winner in 1971. This year, the company is extending the contest to include all ranks of the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts.

Owens-Illinois, a leading manufacturer of glass, plastic, paper and glass-ceramic products, has more than 70,000 employees and is the 80th largest industrial company in the United States.

Would you invite this family into your living room?
Television viewers in 42 countries have answered a resounding "Yes." In Great Britain alone, 17-million people stayed home on Sunday nights for 26 weeks to welcome this family into their homes.
The family? The Forsytes. The television series "The Forsyte Saga" Produced by the British Broadcasting Corporation (BBC), the 26 programs present a serial version of John Galsworthy's epic about life among London's nouveau riche in the late 19th and early 20th centuries.
KETC-TV, Channel 9 now has the option to repeat "The Forsyte Saga" in its entirety this Spring for the last time before the television rights expire. The question is, does St. Louis want to see the series again? or, put slightly differently, would you invite this family back into your living room?
Yes, put "The Forsyte Saga" back on the air. I am enclosing a $25 tax-deductible contribution for a Channel 9 membership to show my support for the station and "The Forsyte Saga."
Yes, I am a member, and yes, put "The Forsyte Saga" back on the air.

New AFA Chapter to Be Organized at Scott AFB

The first organizational meeting of the Scott Air Force Base chapter of the Air Force Association (AFA) will be held at the Scott Officers Club at 6 p.m. The meeting will be preceded by a short social event beginning at 5:15 p.m.

Persons interested in airpower, its development, its use is invited to attend. As Gen. Jack J. Caltan commander of the Military Airlift Command which has its headquarters at Scott, recently stated, "The independent, non-profit AFA represents all members of the aerospace team—military and civilian, Reservists and Guardsmen, active and retired personnel, and the cadets of our officer training programs. Believe me, there is something in AFA for everyone."

AFA, with national headquarters in Washington, D. C., is forming local chapters throughout the free world—Scott being one of the newest. There are more than 340 chapters of AFA in existence. The organization numbers more than 100,000 members, 20,000 of which are on active duty. About 350 members reside in this area.

A distinguished group of former airmen serve as officers and directors of the association, including "Jimmy" Doolittle, Carl A. Spaatz, Joe Foss, Nathan F. Twining, Curtis E. LeMay and J. P. McConnell. Doolittle and Foss are past presidents.

The stated aims and purposes of AFA are:

To assist in every way possible in obtaining and maintaining adequate airpower for the national security.

To advise its members and educate the public at large about national security, developments of the aerospace age and to disseminate information on new accomplishments in this field.

The association also publishes and distributes to its members Air Force Magazine, the leading publication of its kind in the nation.

NEW WAY TO OWN A NEW HOME RENT IT!

If You Decide To Buy, Part of Rent Goes Toward Down Payment!

3835 John Glenn Dr.

After 6 P.M. — 656-2660

IS OUR HOUSE THE BEST VALUE IN TOWN TODAY???

We Think So—and Heres' Why... In our opinion the Basement House, in the Granite City area, will increase in value, over the value of a non-basement or slab house with a garage, to the extent that its increased value should, within ten years, be worth the price of a new car to you.

The basement home, has the advantage of easy and inexpensive expansion for additional bedroom or family room, while you are making money living in it.

In other words... the basement house has better, quicker, and higher re-sale value.

Walker Plagued By Lack of Big 'Debate' Crowd

Copley News Service
Springfield — Good publicity, but poor crowds.
That so far has been the reaction to walking Dan Walker's tape-recorded "debates" with Lt. Gov. Paul Simon in the Democrat gubernatorial primary campaign.

The failure to draw sizable turnouts in his swings through Downstate cities is the main reason for Statehouse skepticism that Walker is a serious threat to the organization-backed Simon.

Walker's reception at a Springfield motel appears to be typical of what he is encountering everywhere. There were at best 40 persons present at the mid-morning session in the motel conference room.

About half of these were obviously from the news media—newspaper reporters and columnists, photographers, television cameramen, broadcasters and recording people from the radio stations.

The general audience was scarcely 20 and seemed to be made up chiefly of students from a not-too-distant Junior college and Sangamon State University. As the professional politicians say, it was lucky if there were 10 votes in the crowd.

This is too bad as far as Walker is concerned because he carries off the "debate" in good form. A large picture of a smiling Simon peers down at a chair, empty except for an impersonal recording broadcasting device.

A pretty girl served as "moderator" and described the issues on which taped comments for Simon were forthcoming. A slight, humming delay that preceded the Simon voice transmitted some feeling of doubt and hesitation while Walker, a fairly handsome and impressive man, sat thoughtfully on a nearby chair presumably pondering the ploy of it all.

Where Walker appears to hit Simon the hardest with his own taped words is in the Paul Powell affair.

This recording is taken from an early joint appearance of the two on a Chicago radio station when Walker pushed Simon verbally off-balance by questioning why he did not reveal his knowledge of the Powell shoebox heard although he had been told by the late secretary's lawyer, John Readman, two months in advance of newspaper revelation.

Simon's reply that "I didn't even tell my wife" until he had an opportunity to discuss the matter with Republican Attorney General William J. Scott, effectively punctured by Walker who comments, "Why then did he tell Gene Callahan?"

The ebullient Callahan, a top Simon aide, is well-known to Springfield press people and the reference had a touch of humor about it. But elsewhere in the state it is possible that Walker might convey a picture of sinister political intrigue in the smoke-filled room variety.

In the same joint appearance, Simon also stumbled in attempting to counter Walker's interrogation as to why he accepted endorsement of the Democratic organization, state makers, who included several persons under investigation in the race-track-stock matter.

Walker scores less well on more basic issues such as taxes and education. But most professionals believe elections are decided much more on emotions than issues and logic.

To have any chance of winning, Walker is going to have to find a way to attract bigger audiences to his debates. He also appears woefully weak in the matter of organization, especially since on election day Simon will have the benefit of Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley's massive machine, plus an army of Downstate precinct committeemen.

Simon undoubtedly was wise in scuttling the person-to-person debate overtures. He probably has little to worry about in the primary as long as that recorder continues to play to almost empty halls.

NEW PASTORS HERE, the Rev. and Mrs. Clifton (Bessie) Gallher have assumed their new duties as co-ministers of Bethel Chapel Pentecostal Church, 25th Street and Ohio Avenue. Both are ordained Pentecostal ministers. They replace the Rev. Kenneth Brand who was called to do mission work in Peru.

Couple Assumes Duties As Co-Pastors of Bethel

The Rev. and Mrs. Clifton (Bessie) Gallher, both ordained Pentecostal ministers, have assumed the co-pastorship of Bethel Chapel Pentecostal Church, 25th Street and Ohio Avenue, filling the vacancy created by the departure of the Rev. Kenneth Brand for mission work in Peru.

The new pastors came here from Fairfield, Ill., where they pioneered that town's Pentecostal church and ministered there 10 years. Fairfield is Rev. Gallher's home town and his wife is from Jonesboro where her father also is a pastor.

He was ordained in 1952 at age 18 while doing evangelistic work. She was ordained in Benton, in 1959, the year they were married. They co-pastored the church at Benton which Rev. Gallher also pioneered. The couple have three children, Dwayne, 12; Stephen, 9; and Ruth, 6. The children are active in church activities and assist their parents in conducting services.

The family is purchasing a home on Birchcliff Drive and hopes to move in next month. Meanwhile, they are living in quarters in the church building.

GC Pollution Control Unit Asks U.S. Aid

The Granite City Air Pollution Control Department has submitted a grant application to the federal Environmental Protection Agency for partial funding of a $42,340 budget for the fiscal year May 1, 1972, to April 30, 1973.

The program is in line with the city's eight-month budget of $29,715, expanded about one-third to cover the full year. The new department was not approved until November 1971 with the partial budget which extends through April 30, 1972. The federal government pays two-thirds of the program costs and is being asked for $28,100. The city would supply the remaining $14,000 if the budget is approved.

The percentage for equipment is decreased in the new document. A total of $13,300 was requested for new equipment in the current budget. The new schedule calls for $8,790 for equipment. This will include items needed for the city to join the national pollution alert warning system.

Barbershop Quartet Seeks Engagements

A new barbershop quartet, including two Granite City members, has been formed and is seeking engagements throughout the area, it was announced today.

The quartet is composed of Richard Pilch and Dennis McCaren, both of Granite City; Eldred Mueller of Okawville, and George Bagot of Jennings, Mo.

All are associated with the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America. Information on engagements may be obtained by calling Pilch at 877-3634. The group needs at least two weeks notice, Pilch said.
